

MALENKOV MURDERED SAYS U.S. REPORT

GIBSON ISLAND, Md. (UPI)—Col. Julius Amos, head of an organization called the International Services of Information, said today he had received reports from behind the Iron Curtain that Soviet Premier Malenkov had been murdered.

There was no confirmation from any official source. Amos said there were "strong and numerous" reports that Malenkov was killed after being held prisoner for 30 days. He could not say what individual or group was responsible for the reported execution.

He did not identify his sources of information, except that they were from behind the Iron Curtain.

Carries Canada's Flag in Ocean Race

Capt. W. B. Holms' big ketch Dragon sails tonight for San Pedro and the commencement of the gruelling ocean race to Honolulu. Rosenbergs' Fate Before High Court

U.S. Government Lawyers Urge Justices
To Set Aside Stay Granted Atom Spies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government lawyers today urged the Supreme Court, meeting in an unprecedented emergency session, to set aside the stay of execution granted to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg by Justice William O. Douglas.

The high tribunal convened in Washington to hear arguments on which it will decide whether to let the Rosenbergs die in Sing Sing's electric chair tonight for betraying atomic secrets to Russia or uphold Douglas' reprieve for the condemned couple.

The government asked the court to overturn the stay of execution, arguing that a further postponement "would not serve the interests of justice."

The Rosenbergs' lawyers stood by to argue in support of Douglas' action Wednesday.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson

Rhee's PW Release Seen Endangering Korean Truce

Armistice Plans Proceed Despite Korean Action

MUNSAN (AP)—The draft of a Korean truce apparently was completed today but its fate might hinge on President Syngman Rhee's open defiance of his allies in arbitrarily releasing 25,000 anti-Red prisoners of war.

C-124 Crashes In Japan

Tokyo Scene of U.S. Air Tragedy

TOKYO (AP)—A giant C-124 Globemaster pin-wheeled out of the murky sky near Tokyo today and crashed in flames, carrying 129 Americans to their deaths in the world's worst air disaster.

The United States Air Force said 60 bodies had been identified and the death toll had been established at 129. The huge double-deck transport was carrying 121 U.S. army engineers and airmen back to battle stations in Korea. The plane had a crew of seven.

There were no survivors. The four-engined Globemaster crashed seconds after taking off from the U.S. air base at Tachikawa, 25 miles west of Tokyo.

An eyewitness said the giant plane "spinsaulted like a bird and plummeted to the ground." A Japanese farmer, Masayasu Kinoshita, said "the huge plane came skimming over the trees by the highway. Two of its four propellers were not turning. Then it circled and crashed and exploded."

The plane was a special flight for soldiers, not one of the regular courier runs between Japan and Korea.

The worst previous air disaster was the crash of another Globemaster near Larson air force base at Moses Lake, Wash., which killed 87 last Dec. 20.

Two Worst Crashes Both Globemasters

Today's death toll in the crash of a C-124 Globemaster transport near Tachikawa air base, Tokyo, is by far the worst in aviation history—military or civilian.

The previous worst disaster occurred Dec. 20, 1952. Eighty-six died in another C-124 taking off from Larson air force base, state of Washington. The 87th person died in hospital later. There were 30 survivors.

The worst commercial plane wreck was near Cardiff, Wales, on March 12, 1950, when 80 were killed and three survived during a return trip from Dublin with soccer fans.

The disaster involving Canadian Pilgrim, carrying Holy-year pilgrims home from Rome, crashed into Mont L'Ombre in the French Alps. All 58 persons aboard—nearly all of them Canadians—were killed.

June 24, 1950, 58 lives were lost when an airliner bound from New York for Minneapolis crashed into Lake Michigan.

Dec. 16, 1951, a C-46 non-scheduled transport crashed in Elizabeth, N.J., a few minutes after take-off from Newark airport bound for Florida. The death toll was 56.

All 55 passengers of an airliner were killed near Washington, D.C., Nov. 1, 1949, when the aircraft collided with a P-38 fighter plane. The fighter plane pilot was injured.

June 7, 1949, 53 died in the Atlantic Ocean off San Juan, Puerto Rico, when a transport plane crashed shortly after taking off for Miami.

Outside San Juan harbor on April 11, 1952, 52 persons died in a crash shortly after taking off for New York.

Near Decota, Calif., in August, 1951, 50 were killed in the crash of a commercial airliner.

The worst jet plane disaster occurred last May 2, when a British passenger plane crashed in a heavy storm near Calcutta, India, killing 43.

WORLD REACTION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House announced it may have an announcement on the Korean prisoner situation after a meeting of the national security council today.

SEOUL (AP)—A reliable South Korean source indicated tonight President Syngman Rhee said "no" to President Eisenhower's urgent June 6 appeal for South Korea to accept an armistice.

Rhee has answered formally Eisenhower's letter. The source said its text would be made public Friday.

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today he was "shocked and grieved" over South Korean President Syngman Rhee's release of 25,000 anti-Communist prisoners of war but that he still held hope for a truce in the war.

Churchill appealed to the House, however, not to press him to "try to say anything" more until he had more information on the release of the prisoners.

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today Canada cannot support the "very serious" action of Syngman Rhee, South Korea's president, in freeing 25,000 North Korean prisoners.

BERNE, Switzerland (UPI)—Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre said today the release by South Korean President Syngman Rhee of 25,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners has raised doubts that Switzerland can act as a neutral custodian of Korean PWs.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—Swedish official quarters said today Sweden's participation in the truce repatriation committee would hinge on the eventual results of South Korea's liberation of anti-Red prisoners.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today discussed with senators the "seriousness" of South Korea's release of prisoners, and a Senate investigation was demanded to determine "American culpability."

PUSAN (AP)—A high South Korean military authority said today that most of the 25,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners released earlier would be enlisted in the South Korean Army.

If this report proved true the 16 division South Korean Army would be increased by almost two divisions.

Firing Squad Red Reply To East Berlin Riots

BERLIN (CP)—A Russian firing squad today executed a German accused by the Soviet Army command of organizing Wednesday's anti-Communist riots in East Berlin.

Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrova, now ruling East Berlin under a state of siege, announced the execution.

The Soviet general described the dead man, Willi Goetting, as "a resident of West Berlin, who worked on order of a foreign intelligence services, was one of the active organizers of provocations and disturbances in the Soviet sector of Berlin, and participated in the violent banditry against the organs of power and the population."

"Goetting was sentenced to death by shooting. The sentence was carried out," the grim announcement concluded.

The Russians extended martial law to areas bordering East Berlin and began a series of mass arrests in an effort to stamp out the unrest which exploded in the sector Wednesday and resulted in at least 16 fatalities.

More than 100 Germans were reported under arrest today in East Berlin and facing Soviet courts.

Most of the arrested Germans were, by Communist admission, residents of East Berlin and not the Allied sectors.

The Red Berlin radio announced the names of 18 youngsters under 20 who it said had been arrested in connection with the demonstrations. The broadcast identified the youths as Western agents—and listed all but two as Soviet zone residents.

The Reds also contended that the general strike which paralyzed the eastern sector of the city Wednesday had ended. "All patriotic workers are back on their jobs."

Apparently Russian riflemen shot down several hundred Germans, but the exact casualty toll was impossible to pin down. The German Red Cross identified 16 bodies in West Berlin hospitals as riot gun-shot victims. There, also, were 119 wounded, some in serious condition.

How many lay dead or wounded in the Soviet zone could not be determined.

RUSH TANKS

Uncompromising Russian sentries blocked every main

East Germany, and Eabersberg, where the Soviet military commander, Col. Gen. A. A. Gretchko, has his residence.

Trucks plying the international highway between Berlin and West Germany reported anti-Red rioting had broken out Wednesday in Magdeburg, Chemnitz, Dresden, Leipzig, Gera and other cities simultaneously with the cyclonic outburst here.

Russian steel sealed off East Berlin completely today. A full armored Red division deployed along the 27-mile frontier and let no one in or out except physicians.

The Berlin revolt filled the press of Western Germany with demands that the Western powers seize the initiative and demand that Russia yield to free elections and full freedom for a united Germany.

TORN A HOLE

The influential Frankfurter Rundschau said the revolt in the Russians' own front yard tore a hole in the Communist clay colossus and the West now should thrust a spear into the gaping wound.

The Red Berlin radio announced the names of 18 youngsters under 20 who it said had been arrested in connection with the demonstrations. The broadcast identified the youths as Western agents—and listed all but two as Soviet zone residents.

The Reds also contended that the general strike which paralyzed the eastern sector of the city Wednesday had ended. "All patriotic workers are back on their jobs."

RUSH TANKS

Uncompromising Russian sentries blocked every main frontier point. Behind them stood tanks, armored cars and mobile guns.

The Russians rushed a full tank division into the sector, with the last elements bivouacking in East Berlin about 4 a.m. today. Soviet officials clamped a blockade on the highway linking West Berlin with West Germany to keep the roads clear for the fast-moving Soviet division. The blockade was lifted at 5 a.m.

The Russians booted into obscurity the East Berlin Communist police who so signally failed to keep order Wednesday. Soviet authorities blanketed the eastern sector with their own gunners, teamed up with Red German units brought in from deep in the East zone.

All but one of Premier Otto Grotewohl's East German government traveled with armed bodyguards. The exception was deputy Prime Minister Otto Nuschke, head of the fellow-traveling East zone Christian Democrats, who said he was kicked across the border into the West zone by rioters Wednesday. West Berlin police said he wanted to go back east—but they turned him over to American intelligence agents for questioning.

Martial law stretched restricting fingers into the west sectors. All elevated train traffic in Berlin, controlled from the east, stopped.

The city subway functioned in both the East and West sectors, however, but was halted for checks at the frontier. The 1,000,000 West Berliners who ride the elevated trains daily were hard put to get to work on the overloaded buses and streetcars.

Many Casualties
Reported as Quake
Hits West Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI)—A violent, 18-minute earthquake shook the western Turkish city of Edirne early today.

First reports said there were many casualties and heavy property damage.

The Istanbul observatory said there had been no news from surrounding villages.

Edirne residents were reported fleeing their homes in fear of further earth shocks.

More Anti-Reds Break Prison, Fight Marines

SEOUL (AP)—Four hundred anti-Communist North Korean prisoners broke from an Allied prison camp near Inchon early today after a bloody clash with United States Marine guards.

The prisoners, joining 25,000 others who had broken from four camps in South Korea Wednesday, stamped through barbed wire fences in a hail of bullets from the marines, who had just been rushed up to replace South Korean guards.

Camp authorities said 10 prisoners were killed and 93 wounded in a wild clash in the dark with the combat-tested marines and U.S. Army soldiers. One marine guard was wounded seriously.

TOKYO (AP)—About 25,000 militant, anti-Red North Koreans fled Allied prison camps today as South Korean guards turned their backs in open revolt against the United Nations command.

A few hours later the UN command handed the Reds a letter at Pannunjom reporting the Republic of Korea guards had been replaced by U.S. troops and that every effort is being made to recapture the 25,000 prisoners still loose.

President Syngman Rhee ordered the prisoners freed in an unprecedented move that caught his Allies flat-footed and left them reeling.

Rhee's arbitrary order for the first time turned South Korea's vociferous anti-Red threats into direct action.

No official source would speculate whether that would delay or block an armistice that had seemed only an arm's reach away.

First reaction from observers was that Rhee's move would not keep the Allies from signing an armistice agreement.

However, some sources said the Reds might balk and demand delivery of the prisoners. They were part of 46,380 anti-Red North Koreans and Chinese who refused to go home and thus became a problem that was resolved only last week after months of negotiations.

The UN command was relying almost entirely on radio broadcasts asking the prisoners to return, even as South Korea's radio Pusan broadcast a message from Rhee urging civilians to house and feed them.

The UN broadcasts told the prisoners they had made a mistake in leaving the prison camps. They promised no reprisals and assured the prisoners they would be set free after an armistice is signed.

Meanwhile, Maj. Gen. Thomas W. Herren, U.S. commander of PW camps, conferred with Gen. Sun Yip Paik, South Korean army chief of staff, without reaching any solution.

"Paik was non-committal," Herren said, "and he made it clear that it was all in the hands of President Rhee."

Allied soldiers at UN headquarters in Tokyo voiced resentment against Rhee and his followers.

Pte. Bill Nadolske of Akron, O., said: "We gave him everything. We do everything for him and now he turns around and kicks us in the teeth."

In Tokyo, a spokesman at Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters issued a statement accusing the South Koreans of collusion with the anti-Red prisoners, saying:

"Between midnight and dawn today, approximately 25,000 militantly anti-Communist prisoners of war broke out of United Nations command prison camps at Pusan, Pusan, Mansan, and Sang-Mu-dai, Korea."

Statements attributed to high officials of the Republic of Korea now make it clear that the action had been secretly planned and carefully coordinated at top levels in the Korean government and that outside assistance was furnished the PWs in their mass breakout.

Every Evidence of Collusion

"Republic of Korea Army Security units assigned as guards at the PW camps did little to prevent the breakouts and there is every evidence of actual collusion between the RoK guards and the prisoners."

Before the mass escape, the UN held just under 125,000 prisoners but nearly 47,000 of them refused to go back. The 25,000 who escaped were among the 47,000.

Rhee went into closed session with his cabinet.

U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs in Seoul and other diplomatic officials declined to comment. But they were known to be gravely concerned.

The South Koreans long had wanted the anti-Communist Korean prisoners turned loose as civilians. They have threatened to ignore any truce that left the Communists holding North Korea and Red Chinese troops on Korean soil.

They also have threatened to fire on any troops sent into South Korea to explain about return to their homelands to Chinese and North Koreans who refuse repatriation.

Aside from the mass exodus from the four camps there was no other report of trouble at any of the other 10 PW camps in South Korea.

New West Coast Ship
Link With Caribbean

MONTREAL (CP)—A new steamship service from the Pacific Coast to the Caribbean was announced today by Saguenay Terminals. Initial sailing from Vancouver is scheduled for July 10.

Ships will carry both passengers and freight and will touch ports on the Pacific Coast of the United States as well as Trinidad, Georgetown and Maracaibo.

TIMES' CROSSWORD PUZZLE CLIMBS; No. 13 WORTH $200

Again it was a little word, "fact," that kept $175 prize money for the Victoria Times Crossword Puzzle No. 12 from most of the entrants. Eliminated on this word alone were 3,696; most of them had "fact."

There was no winner, so Crossword No. 13, which will appear Friday, will be worth $200. Complete answer to No. 12 is on Page 11 today.

TRUCE

tors would meet to approve the text.

Some observers said it was possible the armistice agreement would have to be sent to Washington and UN headquarters in New York for approval. This would take several days.

Meanwhile, both Red and UN officials reacted as though a truce were still no more than a few days away.

Communist work crews tore down mud huts in Panmunjom and began construction of what appeared to be a large permanent building. This may be the site of the official signing and could serve as headquarters for the military armistice commission.

UN officials stepped up the job of clearing sites for exchanging prisoners and senior officers who will serve on the military armistice commission flew to Korea.

AIR DISASTER

AP correspondent Stan Carter, reporting from the scene, said sickened air force medics toiled under searchlights carrying broken bodies to ambulances across 100 yards of deep mud.

"The scene was like something out of hell," Carter said. "There was the terrible smell of burned oil and burned human flesh intermingled."

"The bodies were terribly mangled."

"One medic tried to pick up one body and put it on a stretcher. The head fell off."

"The wreckage was all tangled into one concentrated spot—the plane must have come straight down and exploded. There were balls of crumpled metal 30 feet high."

Names of the dead will not be released until next of kin are notified.

The air force said there was some light rain and fog as the plane left Tachikawa but the weather was not bad enough to ground aircraft.

It said there was a ceiling of about 1,000 feet and visibility of about one mile.

Japanese firemen were the first to reach the blazing plane.

"Seven of us rushed to the burning wreckage and pulled out seven dying men," one of them said.

"All the others were trapped in the flames and we could do nothing."

Hiroji Kato, a 35-year-old farmer, was slightly burned when the big craft exploded.

"I heard a tremendous sound of engines," he told the newspaper Asahi. "I looked up from the field and saw this huge plane falling on me. I almost fainted. Then it crashed and exploded. The blast burned me in several places, but my wife and son, who were working with me about 35 feet away, were not hurt."

Last Friday the air force briefly grounded all Globemasters after the failure of small generator parts had caused fires in the engines of two planes. Most of the planes were out of service only a few hours.

Witnesses agreed that the Globemaster which crashed today was not afire when it hit the ground.

An air force board, which investigated last December's crash at Moses Lake found that the big plane crashed because someone had failed to unlock control surfaces before the takeoff. The air force ordered special pre-takeoff check routine as a result, and work was speeded up on devices to prevent such occurrences.

Whitman County, Washington, produced more than 20,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1952 to maintain first place in the nation. The county produced 20,227,560 bushels, an average of 36.85 bushels per acre, to account for 25 per cent of the state's production.

Court Warning Accompanies Drivers' Fines

Two drivers were warned of more severe punishment to come if they appeared in city police court again on charges of the same nature when Magistrate H. C. Hall heard traffic cases today.

He fined William Schultz, 2014 Fernwood, $40 for driving a car while not holding a driver's license and $5 for driving a fuel truck without a chauffeur's license.

Prosecutor Alan Bigelow told the court that earlier this year Schultz was fined for not having a license, for careless driving, giving police false information and for using another person's license.

"If you come into this court again on a charge of this nature there will be no option of a fine. You will go to jail," the magistrate warned accused.

FIFTH OFFENSE Kenneth R. Wilkins, 532 Selkirk, was found guilty on a charge of speeding on his motorcycle. Mr. Bigelow told the court Wilkins had four previous convictions against for speeding.

Magistrate Hall imposed a fine of $25 and restricted Wilkins to driving a car for business purposes only for two months. "You are not to drive your motorcycle at all during that period," he ordered.

Last-Minute Strike Meeting Scheduled A negotiation meeting which might avert a strike of five Memorial Arena maintenance men was scheduled for 2 p.m. today between the Arena commission and the International Union of Operating Engineers (I.O.O.F.).

Edward Callan, union business agent, said earlier that the men will start a day and night picket line Friday unless a settlement is made.

Negotiations began last November, and the vote to strike in favor of a 4½-cent hourly wage increase was taken among the five men June 10.

Atomic Clock Loses Second in 300 Years SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UPI)—An atomic clock so exact it will lose only one second in 300 years was described Wednesday night by Dr. H. Harold Lyons of the National Bureau of Standards.

Dr. Lyons said the experimental clock "offers the highest absolute accuracy of any measurement in the history of science."

The clock, he said, would be based on the fact that atoms of one element move at a uniform speed. Modern electronic devices, used to count the atomic vibrations, would be the basis for the clock.

Vancouver Hospital Faces Damages Suit VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Constance Bent, a Vancouver widow, fell out of bed three times while a patient in St. Paul's Hospital two years ago. Now, she is seeking damages in a Supreme Court action, charging negligence. The hospital authorities deny the charge.

In the third fall, following an operation, she claims she broke her shoulder.

OSLO (CP)—Liquor sales in Norway for the first quarter of 1953 were 5.8 per cent lower than the same period of 1952. It was estimated per capita consumption of liquor and wine was 16-per-cent lower than last year.

Candidates Not To Use Television OTTAWA (BUP)—Canadian political parties have decided not to use free television time for election broadcasts in the current campaign, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation announced Wednesday night.

Free time was offered by the publicly-owned corporation. The CBC also announced that the parties had been unable to agree on the division of free time allotted by the CBC for radio broadcasts.

"The time was, therefore, divided on a ratio set by the board of governors for this election in the event of such disagreement," the CBC said. The Liberals got 30 minutes more than the Progressive Conservatives.

Ontario Clerk Jailed For Stealing $62,200 TORONTO (BUP)—James L. Cuttle, 45, began serving a three-year term today for embezzling $62,200 from the Ontario highway department despite his counsel's plea it would "crush and break him."

The former department clerk, the father of five children, was sentenced for 32 illegal transactions between 1948 and 1952.

Defense lawyer G. Arthur Martin said Cuttle had already paid back more than $8,000, turned over his $2,000 pension fund, and was trying to sell his $10,000 home as further restitution.

ONLY DIGNIFIED THING TO DO Cuban Envoy Quits Montreal Job

MONTREAL (BUP)—William Espinosa, Cuban consul-general who came under fire from his government for being polite to exiled Cuban politicians, quit his job today because "it is the only dignified thing to do."

The 47-year-old consular officer announced his resignation in a one-sentence statement telephoned to news services. It came nearly two weeks after representatives of opposition political parties met in a Montreal hotel to work out plans to oust the regime of President Fulgencio Batista.

The Cuban foreign ministry charged the group, headed by former Presidents Carlos Prío Socarras and Carlos Hevia, made plans here to overthrow Batista's government with "acts of violence and gangsterism."

Espinosa, a Cuban consular employee for 19 years, was criticized for recognizing them when they came here.

He wound up his career and 23 months in Montreal with the Five Distressed Ships In Dense Atlantic Fog

Nova Scotia Fishboat With 3 Men Aboard Overdue 48 Hours; Liner Georgic Held Up

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Dense fog shrouded Atlantic shipping lanes today for the third day in a row. A 36-foot fishboat carrying three men was 48 hours overdue in the grey blanket and four other vessels were reported in trouble.

Air force search-and-rescue units couldn't penetrate the fog to aid the distressed ships.

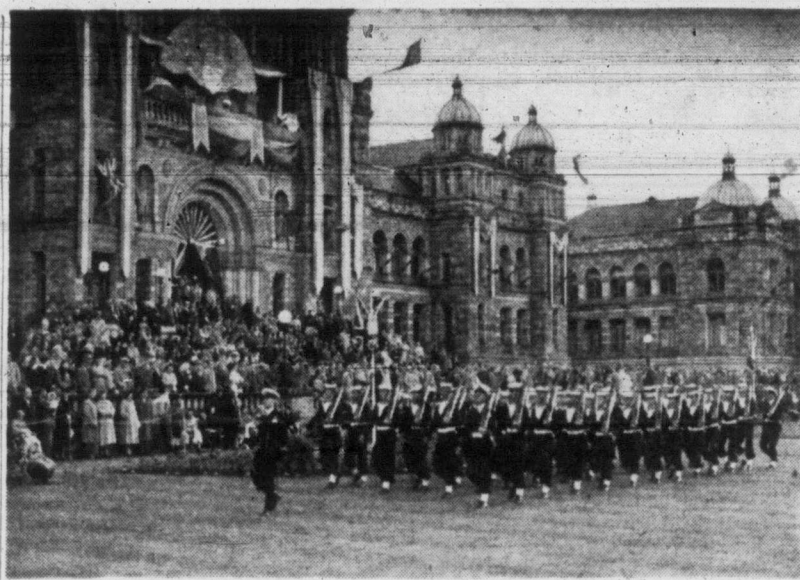

The fishboat Saratoga, due Tuesday afternoon at Clark's Harbor, N.S., was believed lost off the southern coast.

The liner Georgic, carrying 700 immigrants from Le Havre and Southampton, stood by at the lightship at the entrance to Halifax Harbor waiting clearing weather before attempting to navigate the 18 miles to dockside. She already was 24 hours late.

Other ships in trouble off the east coast were the United States drifter Thomas D., the tanker Imperial Winnipeg, and the German freighter Eddi.

The Thomas D. radioed that she had a broken rudder shaft. She was 20 miles off St. Paul's Island, off Cape Breton, but in no immediate danger.

Her message was relayed to ships in the area and she was

Ike Explains Book-Burning Statement

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today he hoped President Eisenhower's conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "will result in a clarification" of the department's book-burning policy.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he had not seen a state department directive on removal of books from U.S. overseas libraries. But he said he was calling Dulles to the White House to discuss it.

At the same time Mr. Eisenhower explained what he meant when he exhorted Dartmouth College seniors Sunday not to "join the book-burners."

He declared he favored free access to Communist books in this country because it is necessary for the American people to know all the facts about Communism. But he said it would be ridiculous to supply our libraries abroad with books that advocate the overthrow of our own government.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) praised the president's statement as "a very commendable clarification of the Dartmouth speech which unfortunately was misunderstood by a great number of people."

ANXIOUS ABOUT FUTURE

North Korean PWs Tell of 'Escape'

By S. K. LEE
United Press Staff Correspondent

PUSAN, Korea (UP).—Five anti-Communist North Koreans, nervous and anxious about their future, told today of their "escape" from U.N. prisoner of war camps.

Three of the prisoners released by South Koreans were interviewed in the mountains outside this refugee-swollen city. The two others were trying to lose themselves in the crowd in town.

All asked that their names be withheld.

A husky 25-year-old North Korean said that although the prisoners didn't leave their compound until 2 a.m. today, they knew all about the plan four hours earlier.

"ROK military policemen came to our camp and led us out," he said. "I was not worried. There were other MP's waiting for us outside."

"We just did what we had wanted to do for a long time. The second escapee said his home was in Chaeryong in North Korea.

"What is the ROK government going to do with us?" he asked. "We will do whatever they say."

He said there was no shooting at the camp from which he escaped and he believed all the prisoners came out safely.

The third man, wearing dyed army fatigues and eating food and rice wine provided by the villagers, said: "These villagers were waiting for us to give us food and clothing. We ate like kings."

In downtown Pusan I talked with two escaped prisoners walking around with a South Korean army sergeant. They wore fresh white shirts and chocolate colored fatigues.

"We met the sergeant as we walked into town," said a 21-year-old PW from Suncheon. "We walked down the main highway right into town. No body recognized us."

Both men said that since they arrived in Pusan, many persons had offered them food and shelter.

"We have a place to stay tonight—a home," said one. Right now he said he had wanted to do for a long time.

Only one fear—the possibility of being re-arrested by American military police.

"Most people around here don't know me, but I think the American guards from the camp would recognize me," he added.

Boxer To Hang Sept. 29

Charles Matthews Convicted By Jury

VANCOUVER (CP)—Boxer Charles Matthews said by witnesses to have made three attempts to take his own life before his murder trial, has been sentenced to death.

Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne Wednesday night sentenced Matthews to be hanged Sept. 29 after an assize court jury, deliberating just 18 minutes, convicted the 20-year-old Negro of murder in the death of Mrs. Los Angeles Smith, 44.

The Negro woman was bludgeoned to death in her home March 4 and the prosecution charged that Matthews killed her because she had "interfered in and frustrated" the prize-fighter's love affair with the girl he planned to marry.

The defense didn't dispute the Crown contention that Matthews had killed Mrs. Smith and had brutally beaten another woman who lived in the same house, Mrs. Jovelyn Wallberg, but sought acquittal of the boxer on grounds of insanity.

CAME FROM NEW YORK

The Maryland-born Matthews came here from New York about a year ago and fought as a middleweight under the name of Young Sonny Jones.

Before Mr. Justice Clynne pronounced sentence, Matthews asked that if death was to be the penalty the execution be carried out within 30 days.

"I could not say that I did not kill Mrs. Smith and I cannot deny the evidence given in this court by police officers to prove I was the man that did it," he said, ending his statement with these words:

"If it is by the penal code that I must give my life for being insane, all I ask if you cannot reduce the sentence is that I will be hung within 30 days."

The youth took the verdict calmly. Many times during the trial he broke into tears and several times had to be warned by the court for outbursts he made while the testimony was going on.

Gasoline Prices Seen Rising 1-Cent

CALGARY (CP).—Gasoline prices in Canada might rise one cent a gallon if a rumored increase in the price of crude oil in the United States goes into effect.

John R. White, president of Imperial Oil Ltd., said in an interview here Wednesday that Canadian crude oil prices have always been tied in with those in the United States and that the possible 25-cents-a-barrel increase in crude prices there would probably affect prices here.

Phillips Petroleum and Humble Oil Ltd. are the American firms rumored to have boosted crude oil price in the United States.

Mr. White said that on the basis of 22 gallons to the barrel, a 25-cent increase in the price of a barrel of crude oil would mean an approximate jump of one cent a gallon for gasoline. He also forecast that completion of the trans-mountain pipeline from Edmonton to Vancouver will not affect crude oil prices in Alberta.

Barricade Blocks Road to Sing Sing

Prison Guards Against Demonstrations Hours Before Rosenbergs Scheduled to Die

OSSINING, N.Y. (UP)—Guards at Sing Sing Prison threw up a barricade today to keep all unauthorized visitors 300 feet away from the grim, cliff-side bastion where atom spies Julius and Ethel die tonight if legal strategy fails them.

As the hour approached for the Supreme Court to decide whether to overrule or uphold the stay of execution granted the Rosenbergs by Associate Justice William O. Douglas, prison warden Wilfred H. Denno ordered the erection of the sawhorse barricade to prevent any demonstration at the prison gates.

A solid line of 25 prison guards carrying clubs manned the barricade across the only road to the prison.

Ossining police cars constantly patrolled the road, and

Impeachment Action Unlikely

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Chauncey W. Reed (R-Ill.) said today his house judiciary committee would give prompt consideration to a demand for impeachment action against Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, but a high-ranking house Republican said some

In the last congress Rep. Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich.) called for the impeachment of former President Truman. No hearings were held on Shafer's resolution and no action was taken.

Children Grow On Skylark Bread

Skylark Supplies Extra Milk Protein Needed By Growing Children

Yes Mothers, children grow on Skylark Bread, because Skylark has 56% more milk protein than average white bread. Children need twice as much protein as adults, to build healthy muscles and fight disease. Skylark helps supply this important milk protein, so start using Skylark Bread today. It costs no more than ordinary bread.

Mary is the picture of health and energy. Her mother knows that growing children need extra protein, so Mary gets plenty of protein-rich, energy food... food like bread—particularly Skylark Bread with 56% more milk protein than average bread.

Everyone likes Jack. His sturdy muscles and energy seem to pull him in front of the crowd. Jack is a hearty eater, and Skylark Bread is a favorite. Skylark's extra milk protein helps Jack build his strong body and sturdy muscles.

Sally likes candy and sweets. But she eats the right foods too, since Mother keeps Skylark Bread on hand. Children actually eat more Skylark Bread, because it's made with extra skim milk solids for the richer flavor milk gives to baking.

Is This the Limit?

NEWS REPORTS FROM EAST Berlin, telling of the rioting by 50,000 workers in protest against further Communist restrictions, describe how West Berliners hastened to the border between the two sectors and "peered across in wonderment" at the spectacle.

The whole world today will feel equal wonderment at this uprising, but for varying reasons. Some will wonder why it has been so long delayed, some will wonder why only 50,000 took part, some will wonder about the eventual outcome.

The demonstration, which army tanks put down with machinegun fire, was an outstanding example of the fact that men and women will stand tyranny only to a point. Then their pent-up opposition must burst forth, even at the expense of life itself.

The immediate cause of the current unrest is a Communist government ruling that workers must increase their output by 10 per cent, without any increase in wages. Such a measure might be expected to rouse opposition. But it was the spontaneous violence of the reaction that proved startling—that and the direction the protest took.

Small groups of demonstrators in various parts of the sector soon moved into central points. There was no overall organization, but the protest was all the more impressive for that. And the movement did not stop at mere economic protest. All the disfigurement of a people under Communist restriction came to the fore. Soviet flags were torn down, propaganda placards and pictures were burned, crowds shouted, "Ivan go home," and there could be no mistaking the anti-Russian feeling of the crowds, so long suppressed.

As the news reports tell it, people swarmed into the demonstration without regard to the consequences. This was, for the Russians, an uprising of great significance. When men attack tanks with their bare hands the sincerity of their purpose cannot be questioned.

The Berlin riots followed closely on similar anti-Soviet demonstrations in Czechoslovakia. There crowds were inflamed by a currency reform decree which has the effect of wiping out personal savings and reducing the workingman's income. While reports have necessarily been circuitous and meagre, there is little doubt that the outbreaks have been extensive. Other reports tell of riots at Pilsen, and of similar disturbances spreading to Bulgaria. An interesting aspect of the Czechoslovak riots was that Russian flags were torn down and United States emblems raised in their place.

No doubt the utmost severity will be used in stamping out such pointed opposition to Communist rule. But stamping out the visible manifestation of hatred and rebellion does not eradicate the underlying sentiments. On the contrary, it may well increase them.

The people have it in their hands to overthrow tyranny if they are willing to pay the price. The price would have been much less if they had paid it at the polls in the first place. Today it may have to be paid at the street barricades, unless free elections are restored.

Clarifying the Wheat Agreement

IN A RECENT SPEECH IN LONDON, Trade and Commerce Minister C. D. Howe was particularly concerned to make clear the position of Canada and Britain in regard to the International Wheat Agreement. It will be recalled that Britain was the only one of the 46 countries involved in the present agreement that did not wish to sign for the coming year.

The floor price for No. 1 Northern, f.o.b. Lakehead, under the new terms is set at $1.55, and the ceiling price at $2.05. The current world market price at the moment is above the latter figure.

Britain refused to sign in the belief that she would be able to purchase at a lower price than the pact would afford her. But Mr. Howe makes clear that this will not necessarily follow.

The ceiling of $2.05, the minister explains, is a guarantee that the purchasers will not have to pay more than that. The producing country is obligated to charge no more than that price, but the purchaser is under no obligation to buy from signatories to the agreement if he can do better elsewhere.

On the other hand, the seller is guaranteed a price of at least $1.55. As Mr. Howe put it, "The maximum price of $2.05 was offered as protection to the importing countries in return for the minimum price guarantee of $1.55, which protects the exporters."

That appears to be an eminently fair arrangement for all parties, providing a complete answer to those who saw "Canada and the other exporters . . . trying to extract an exorbitant price from the United Kingdom under the new agreement."

In addition, Mr. Howe made clear that even though Britain is not represented in the new arrangement Canada expects to sell wheat to her, "and we would gladly support their application for accession to the agreement at any time."

Generous Protection

MAYOR HARRISON'S PUBLICIZED misgivings over the safety of Victoria's harborfront from fire, and the suggestion that he investigate acquisition of a fireboat as a piece of civil defense equipment have produced a surprising and highly pleasing result.

They have led to a convincing demonstration of equipment already available at no cost to the taxpayers. Harold B. Elworthy's display of the water-throwing abilities of a barge he uses to clean dredging scows has impressed the fire chief. The tug company operator's statement that the barge would be available in the harbor in the event of fire, and that other specially equipped vessels could also be used, gives the city a sense of security it did not have prior to the demonstration.

In making his generous offer, Mr. Elworthy explains his position in matter-of-fact terms. His business, he says, depends on the harborfront businesses. It is in his interests to protect them. The explanation in no way detracts from the public service he offers.

At the same time, revival of the fire-boat issue should call for some straight thinking on the part of the mayor and council. Victoria had such a vessel during the war years. The city relinquished it later because the mayor and aldermen of that time considered costs of maintenance and operation out of proportion to the potential value of the equipment.

By conventional reasoning, the council at this date would not object to a fireboat, provided it cost the city nothing. In other words, if federal authorities footed the bills, Victoria would welcome the craft. But, at present a fireboat does not hold top priority in city fire protection planning.

One point to be determined is whether civil defense needs make such equipment a proper responsibility of all Canadian taxpayers, or whether a fireboat is a desirable acquisition for the city's coffers for purchase, maintenance and operation.

While that issue is being considered, it is comforting to know that Mr. Elworthy's barge and vessels offer some protection against conflagration on the waterfront.

Practical Opposition to Sweeps

A PANEL CHOSEN FROM THE Western Canada Hospital Administrators and Trustees organization has added its voice to the informed chorus opposing sweepstakes as a means of supporting hospitals.

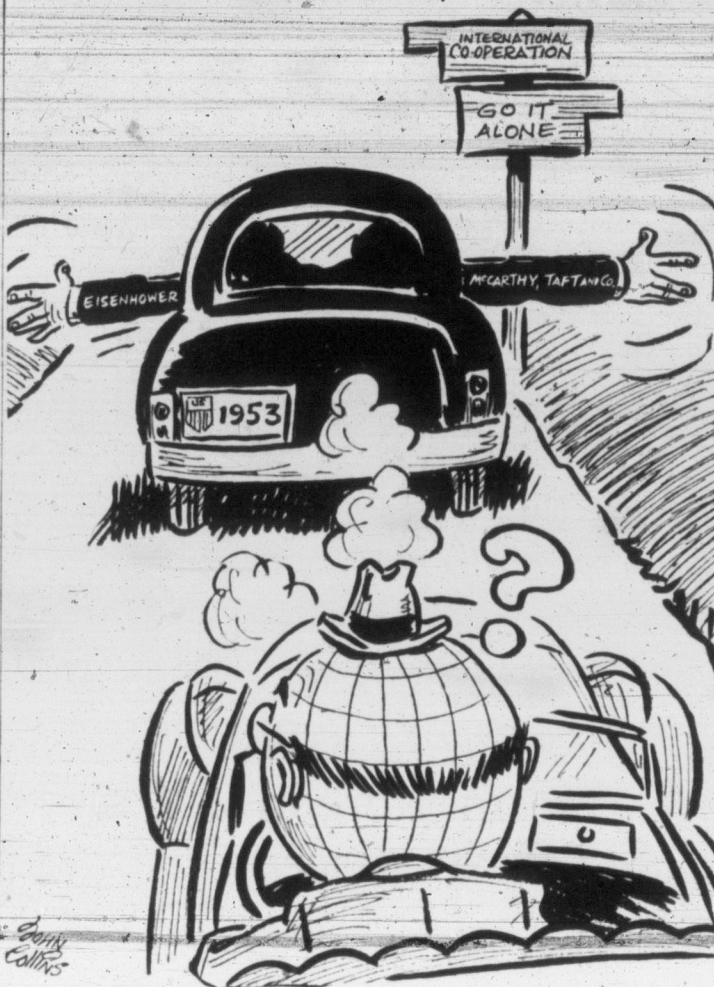

The consensus of the panel was that if sweepstakes were legalized, the draws would be operated on behalf of every charity in the country and the money raised for hospitals would be small.

That opinion adds further weight to the viewpoint expressed by a number of other groups which have studied the application of lotteries to hospital finance. The main practical argument against sweeps, as we understand it, has been that overhead costs, including prizes, left an unjustifiably small sum for the hospital that was supposed to benefit.

The most recent panel opinion carries the issue a step further. If every agency entered the sweepstake field, the buying public would obviously not have enough money to invest in tickets to make the returns worthwhile.

Hard to Follow

Problems of the Peace

BY WALTER LIPPMANN From Washington

THERE are better ways of providing for the defense of the Republic of Korea than by a mutual defense pact. The kind of automatic pact that Dr. Rhee asks for could have been ratified by the Senate, if at all, only after a prolonged debate on whether it is constitutional. And the kind of pact that President Eisenhower offered him instead had little bearing on the present situation.

What South Korea needs immediately is not a treaty with the United States but a guarantee from the United States and the other UN governments participating in the Korean war that they will not withdraw from Korea until a satisfactory peace has been put into effect.

A Korea-U.S.A. Mutual Defense Pact would, in reality, diminish the effectiveness of the guarantee that the United States can give to South Korea. For the other UN governments would have no obligations under such a treaty. It would not bind them to give military support or to participate in embargoes and blockades and the like.

The United States could not as a matter of fact, and would not as a matter of policy, be able to fulfill such a treaty without consulting its allies in the Commonwealth and in the French union. For their collaboration is indispensable to the effective use of American military power in any global action.

Obstacles. A special and bilateral treaty would, moreover, be contrary to the best interests both of Korea and of the U.S.

The signature of a special military treaty would raise well-nigh insuperable obstacles to the unification of Korea. For it is idle to suppose that the Red Chinese will agree to a unified Korea in which—owing to the special military alliance—the United States' forces would in effect be at the Yalu River.

It was to prevent this very thing that they intervened in 1950, and they are not likely to surrender at the political conference what they did not have to surrender on the battlefield.

These are serious matters and it is about time to put away childishness and to think and talk about these matters in an adult way.

It is necessary, it is possible, it is our duty and it is our interest, to guarantee South Korea against a renewal of the aggression, and furthermore to assure it that we shall not withdraw from Korea while the Chinese forces are in the peninsula, and more than that until the rehabilitation and unification of Korea are well in hand. That will take not some months but many years.

While we must make this great commitment, we must reserve to ourselves the final judgment on what concretely are our obligations and how in practice to carry them out wisely. With all due respect to Dr. Rhee, but in justice to ourselves, we cannot give him or allow him to imagine that we have given him, a control of our armed forces or a lien upon our right to decide whether we must go to war. We can and we must and we shall protect his country. But we cannot and we must not enter into an entangling alliance with Dr. Syngman Rhee.

Seen from our side, there would seem to be two broad approaches to a Korean settlement. The one would be to propose elections to form an all-Korean government as soon as possible, and to invest this new government with the responsibility and with the powers needed for the reconstruction and rehabilitation of the country.

The other approach would be to give first priority to rehabilitation and reconstruction and to approach the political unification by reopening trade and intercourse between the north and the south. In this approach moral and economic unification would precede the political unification.

For many reasons this would seem to be the most promising way to go about a very difficult task. We have no illusions about the holding of free elections in a country with no experience of democracy and in the immediate aftermath of a savage civil and international war.

There is almost no prospect that out of an election there could come a reasonably competent government to reconstruct Korea. Reconstruction had better be controlled and administered by the UN while the great powers maintain law and order in accordance with the armistice.

What We Miss

New York Times

Every farmer in the Middle West can see a tornado while it is still far away. The air is hot. Barns and chicken coops are ominously silent. Far off above the horizon is a tell tale black cloud. From its base a funnel projects downward. At the sight the family and the hands rush for the cellar to huddle among the vegetables and fruit. When the danger is over—and it never lasts more than a few minutes—there is an anxious inspection. Sometimes whole sections of buildings have been blown into another county; for the whirling vortex of the tornado may have a speed of 500 miles an hour, though the mass of air as a whole moves at less than a tenth of that velocity. For some unknown reason well over 90 per cent of all the world's tornadoes originate in the United States.

Western farmers are experts on the subject. It is not easy to find sympathy for the fishermen who have struck. Trouble with these men, as I see it, is that they have been badly spoiled by high prices in the past few years. I would like to know of any other business where a man is able to recover the cost of his equipment and on top of that obtain from his fishing enough money to allow him to take his ease for the other months of the year.

It is unfortunate that the entire personnel of the fleet is being "tarred with the same stick" as there are many older men who have fished for a pittance during the hungry thirties and who would be happy to gill-net sockeye at eighteen cents.

Trouble stems from the younger comelately fishermen who take full advantage of our free economy by going "on the cuff" for their gear, paying a buck for a license and from then on they are fishermen and the public is darn well going to pay what they want or else, and regardless of world competitive conditions.

If the economy of British Columbia is to be upset and its second largest primary industry jeopardized by a continued selfish attitude of certain elements within the ranks I think it time consideration be given to a new international arrangement governing the use of fish traps in areas such as Rivers Inlet and the Fraser to be operated jointly by the governing authority and the packers.

Possibly some of these business men in their own right and who are abstracting their living from the public domain, would then learn it is not too smart to point a pistol at the rest of us.

GRATEFUL

This is my first visit to your beautiful city, and I would very much like to express my thanks for the kindness shown me.

When my husband and I, and our two children, arrived at our hotel we found in all the confusion of travel we had mislaid our camera. Our hotel phoned the depot and found that it had been turned in there, and since we had taken many pictures we were terribly grateful to get our camera back.

LILIES OF FRANCE

The Cowichan Leader says "even the government has something to learn about decoration. It is not usual to show the lilies of old France or the harp of Ireland on a black background," apparently referring to shields placed in the Duncan post office.

And what has Cowichan to do with the Lilies of France, the banner of Bourbon despotism? Has the French tricolor, banner of French freedom, been superceded?

And was it the "International Northwest Park Association who bestowed Lafayette's name on a local park?"

Lafayette made three trips to America. After the first trip, made secretly and when very young, he returned to France, and with difficulty persuaded the French government to join America in war on England. With difficulty, as France was tottering on the verge of chaos, Lafayette, an aristocrat of huge wealth, employed much of it in bolstering up the rebel-Americans.

His third trip was made on the invitation of the American government, to publicly thank and tell him for his services to America and for all the money he had spent.

As to the reason for Lafayette's animosity to England, all his very long life, I haven't been able to find out. Perhaps a Britisher had kicked him, or something of that sort. He wasn't exactly the type of man to nurse a grudge.

If a French name is wanted for our local park, why not honor ourselves by naming it "Mirabeau?"

BETTER CHANCE

The headline in your issue of June 9, "Liberals Win in Manitoba," was hardly accurate as is shown by the news dispatches with reference to that election.

Actually the Liberal party as such had no candidate in the Manitoba provincial election. The government there, which was returned, is Liberal Progressive, which is not an integral part of the Liberal party but an amalgamation of Liberals and Farmer Progressives, which was the old party originally formed by Robert Forke and which has no existence in the federal field.

Those Liberal Progressives who belong to the Liberal party as such will have to run on their own as straight Liberals in the forthcoming federal election and it might be an entirely different story not only because it is well known that Canadians often vote differently in federal elections than they do in provincial elections, but many of the Progressives will not be prepared, according to my information, to support the present Liberal government in Ottawa and may very well transfer their votes to the Progressive Conservative party, which I understand has a very good chance not only in Manitoba but everywhere east of Alberta and perhaps also a better chance than some people imagine in the Provinces of British Columbia and Alberta.

NO ABATEMENT

Here we go again. Poor old Social Credit, the old smear and distortion routine again. It didn't get you very far in the recent election did it? One wonders when you will acquire a small measure of maturity and responsibility and thereby some respect from your readers.

So now Social Credit monetary reform is "reckless and irresponsible," "fantastic and discredited," well, I challenge you to give your readers one good reason why the control of credit—which is based on the ability and willingness of the Canadian people to work and produce from the God-given natural resources of the country—should not be controlled by those same Canadian people instead of by a private monopoly.

Tell them too how you resolve the dilemma of insufficient money to purchase the goods and services which may be offered.

You are as anachronistic as the Seer of Cadboro Bay who labels all Social Crediters as "eccentrics"—as anachronistic as the other Cadboro Bay oddity, Caddy.

'The Urgent and Crying Need'

Like many another Victorian I note with pleasure and pride the marvelous and extremely worthwhile project, "Kiwaniis Village" undertaken by the Kiwanis Club.

More power to these fine people who have given so unstintingly of their efforts, time and money for such a needy cause. Thank God there are still those who have concern in their hearts for our aged residents.

Young people today are finding the going pretty rough too and I feel that more aid should be forthcoming to many a deserving veteran who is struggling to provide a home for his family. Housing is his biggest predicament and while CMH has alleviated part of the shortage their contribution seems to have been but a drop in the bucket.

Despite all the new apartment buildings constantly being erected there is still no place for the family in the low income group. Take a look at the apartments and houses advertised in the press. The average working man would need to be a millionaire to afford them, and in the event that he could, nine times out of 10 he'd have to abandon his children because apparently little ones aren't acceptable.

In fairness to the landlord however I know that some people allow their children to wreak havoc as long as it's on someone else's property. Many landlords, in order to protect themselves from perhaps a similar experience, have just flatly rejected couples with children and who can blame them?

But what is the solution to be? Having myself answered ad after ad without results I ask what is to be done?

As an example of this housing shortage let's take a look at what our life during the past eight years has been.

My husband is an overseas veteran but being such hasn't helped us find a home. Trying to get a home together has been next to an impossible feat for us.

Finances seem to go nowhere and with living so high we couldn't attain the down payment on a house in the first place.

To begin our life together we first of all lived for six months with my parents in their three-roomed home, then came a three-year period of living in an old rooming house—upstairs in a small, cold, dirty and dark two-room matchbox-like structure that had neither sink nor stove. A bathroom was shared by six families and a miserable landlady to boot.

I might also make note of the fact that we had a baby girl by this time and were allowed but one washday weekly. We were not permitted to use the bathroom for any washing whatsoever. Think, will you, of the accumulation of dirty diapers.

Finally came another apartment. Upstairs again, an old house converted into two-room suites, but by this time our son was born, so now instead of three of us sharing one-bedroom it became four. Just for the books it still is.

We've had our share of inconvenience, noise, and inconsiderate neighbors.

We've put up with broken rest and unsatisfactory accommodations and I often wonder when things will break favorably for us and for others in like circumstances.

We have had an application in with CMH for five or six years now but they keep saying there is nothing for us. I do not think that they are fair exactly in the distribution of houses. While their point system may be all right, what I do object to is the allotting of houses to non-veterans and to veterans who've had a house, left the city and then returned later on and walked right back into another house.

A friend of mine from Winnipeg has had no less than three wartime houses here on the Island, one even with three bedrooms. Her husband has never been overseas, never left Work Point as a matter of fact, and they've only one child. Why doesn't CMH appoint someone to check on the applicants in their files and rate the need for housing on what they have accordingly? Permanent residents should have some consideration here I think.

I've never believed prior to just recently in married women working outside the home when there are young children to consider. But in considering these same children mothers are practically forced these days to work outside the home as well. It's the only way they can eventually hasten the time when there will be a home in the real sense of the word for their children as well as for themselves. This is based on the whole family and on the single girls who also need the jobs many married women are holding down.

Condemn me if you wish, but I am considering taking a job if it pays well enough to make it worthwhile for me to go out to work. Not permanently of course, just long enough so that with our combined efforts we can manage to achieve a down payment on a house of our own.

I do not like the thought of placing my children in the care of someone else even temporarily, but I feel at times that the end would justify the means when it meant that by that sacrifice we could fulfill the normal desire to have a home of our own where we can bring our children up as they were meant to be and as God intended that they should be.

I earnestly hope you will see fit to print this letter so as to bring home to the minds of your many readers the urgent and crying need for more homes at reasonable rentals.

King-Size Mistake

Ever so often the double-dome thinkers in the Kremlin make a mistake.

They made a king-size mistake this week. They turned their hired men loose in East Berlin on Tuesday in planned demonstrations designed to supply phoney proof that there is freedom of thought and action under Communist rule.

The difficulty was that East Berliners, after eight years of iron-handed Soviet rule, took the whole thing seriously. Before the Reds knew what was happening they had a full-blown revolt on their hands.

Some East German heads were cracked, and it is probable we never will know how many among the demonstrators died under the guns and steel tread of Russian tanks and armored cars.

But for the West it was good news.

It should strengthen West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the September elections in West Germany, and correspondingly weaken the position of German Socialists who increasingly have been campaigning for German unification of a peace-at-any-price basis.

In France, it should give needed impetus to the European army plan whose chances of ratification have dwindled in direct ratio to the rising notes of Russia's siren call to world "peace."

The revolt of the East German people tore aside a portion of the iron curtain effectively revealing the myth of peace and contentment and disclosing the bitter unrest that needs only the slightest spark to be touched into flaming action.

That alone should give pause to world fellow-travelers and all but the most hardened Communists.

Scarcely anything could provide better evidence that, whatever the appearance of the glove, the iron hand still rules beneath.

The East German revolt, coupled as it must be with known unrest in Czechoslovakia and the recent Communist purge in the Ukraine, certainly now will be a foremost topic of the Big Three of the United States, Britain and France when they meet a few weeks hence at Bermuda.

It is bound now to harden finally Big Three, and particularly United States, demands for guaranteed free elections in East Germany before any Big Four talks are undertaken for an overall German peace treaty.

If the outbreaks against Russian rule continue, the whole western policy in the hot and cold wars must be reviewed.

Western diplomats believe that the German and other outbreaks are proof of the theory that behind the world-wide Russian peace offensive lies a desperate need to mend fences at home. It will give point to British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill's demand for a generalized four-power conference if only to find out who is running Russia.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

The Tail and the Dog

HARDLY anyone is taking Syngman Rhee seriously enough, according to those who really know the old man and his people. It is rather generally assumed, both in the U.S. and abroad, that Rhee's passionate rejection of the Korean truce terms has given rise to a mere teapot tempest, and that the American government, on which Rhee is utterly dependent, will soon bring him to his senses.

Joseph

Yet for some days now Rhee's defiance has occupied the almost exclusive attention of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Dulles and other presidential advisers have met repeatedly with President Eisenhower, and canvassed every possible way of dealing with the stubborn old Korean president. And the more they have examined the situation, the more obvious it has become that Syngman Rhee may be entirely willing to wreck the Korean truce, and quite capable of doing so.

Already, in fact, Eisenhower and Dulles have gone much further than they intended to go. There was originally no intention to offer Rhee a defense commitment which would in effect tie the American government to his Korean government. Now that Rhee has rejected this offer, it is almost impossible to see what more the administration can offer him.

"What the old man really wants," remarked one worried policy-maker, "is a green light to attack north, plus a promise to bail him out again if he gets into trouble."

In short, settling with Rhee on anything like Rhee's terms would mean going it alone with a vengeance. Rhee's terms would commit the U.S. to a Far Eastern war of uncertain duration and outcome, with Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek as America's only allies.

For this obvious reason, the administration has no intention of settling with Rhee on Rhee's terms. But persuading him to settle on any other terms is a great deal more difficult than is generally realized.

Logically, it ought to be easy. Syngman Rhee is a native-born Korean, a member of the United States. His government, his army and his country still exist today thanks to the United States. Therefore, Rhee cannot possibly deny a basic policy decision of the United States. The trouble is that Syngman Rhee is not rational. This, indeed, is his great source of strength.

In a way, one cannot help admiring this stubborn octogenarian who is apparently so old-fashioned as to prefer death to what he believes to be dishonor. In the long reach of history, he might even conceivably be right, as the Czechs might have been right in 1939 if they had kept up a hopeless resistance rather than agree to the partition of their country at Hitler's hands. At any rate, Rhee's seemingly irrational willingness to accept what amounts to national suicide confers a tremendous power of blackmail on him.

This power of blackmail is reinforced by his political power in Korea. The Korean people, according to those who know Korea, do most genuinely and understandably fear a return of the Communists, and if Rhee can persuade them that they are to be abandoned to the Communists, the Koreans are likely to support him even in the wildest ventures.

A truce in Korea seems to depend on whether Syngman Rhee is really willing to order his country to commit an act of national suicide—and on whether the Korean army will obey such an order. On balance, the best official guess still seems to be that the fighting in Korea will be ended somehow, despite the mulish, unreasonable, and courageous old Korean president. But it is certainly a strange situation in which the U.S. finds itself, in which the Korean tail which we created may turn out to be capable of wagging the American dog.

Agar Gets Another Chance

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—John Agar went back to work in the movies today, and by his side was a man who risked $250,000 to give the actor another chance.

Agar beamed and said it was "wonderful" that producer Hal Makelim put him under contract although the one-time husband of Shirley Temple at the time was serving his second jail sentence on a drunk charge. The friendship of the two men is a story not often found in this village of hard hearts and forgotten faces.

Makelim had no immediate picture for Agar, so he loaned him to producer-director Hugo Haas for a film, "Bait."

Haas wrote a contract that if Agar didn't show up for work or held up the picture, producer Makelim would have to fork over any losses on the $250,000 movie.

"My attorney said he had never seen such a contract," said Makelim. "He said, 'Are you sure you want to sign this?'"

"I didn't hesitate to sign it. I am willing to bet $250,000 that John never will take a drink again."

"At first the contract said if he even got sick I'd be liable, but I had that part taken out. John never has held up a picture and he won't now. I don't blame Mr. Haas. It's a low-budget picture and he has his own money in it.

"I was the only person in town who wanted to give John another chance. You know how people here are—everybody was ready to give him a kick."

"He starred in a movie, 'My Father, J.R.' for me before that trouble happened. When it came, I put up his bond and paid his lawyer's fees and put him under contract so he'd have a job when he came out. No one else came to his aid."

"John isn't a drinking boy. I could have done the same thing he did, and paid a $10 fine, but I'm not tall and handsome and I was married to America's sweetheart, so he got four months in jail. Of course, he made a mistake. But he's attending meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous now."

Though Makelim has no connection with the Haas production, he was on the set, anyway, to watch his $250,000 actor rehearse his scenes with Cleo Moore. When Agar saw Makelim, they thumped each other on the back.

"John has received more than 7,000 sympathetic letters," the producer added. "Five two pictures planned for John, and he'll sing in a Las Vegas night club. I have a lot of faith in him. He'll be a big star in two years."

SPCA WINS APPEAL; COURT
RULES $11,400 WILL VALID

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Wednesday won its appeal for an $11,400 bequest by the late Mrs. Fanny Marie Smith of Vancouver.

At her death in 1950, Mrs. Smith left a will directing that the bulk of her estate go to the "Vancouver Welfare Association for the purpose of relieving the suffering of pets and animals."

Since no such organization existed, the money was claimed by the SPCA and its subsidiary, the Animal Welfare Association. But Mr. Justice Manson ruled that the bequest was invalid, ordering that the money go to Mrs. Smith's brother, Frederick Sanderson of Penitence, and to nieces and nephews in Los Angeles and Nanaimo.

Wheat in Store, Transit Shows
Drop of 4,500,000 Bushels

WINNIPEG (CP)—The combined domestic and export movement of Canadian wheat during the week ended June 11 exceeded the volume of primary deliveries to the visible system with the result that wheat in store and transit dropped off by 4,500,000 bushels.

The board of grain commissioners reported 248,300,000 bushels at close of business compared with 252,800,000 the previous week. Coarse grains and flaxseed were also down.

Overseas exports continued high for the period with wheat amounting to 9,100,000 bushels, oats 45,000, barley 2,300,000, rye 139,000 and flax 25,000. U.S. imports showed an increase.

Deliveries from farms to licensed elevators were slightly up for all grains but wheat.

ALBERTA CREDIT UNIONS—EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta department of industries and labor reported Wednesday that assets of Alberta's 195 savings and credit unions amounted to $6,771,000 at the end of April.

Loans in force at the end of April totalled $5,321,000. The aggregate amount of loans made in the last 15 years is $28,500,000.

SEEDING NEARLY COMPLETE

MEDICINE HAT (CP)—Seeding is almost complete in southeastern Alberta following a very wet spring that put operations about three weeks behind normal schedule.

However, seeded wheat acreage in the region is down about 7 per cent from last year's record 700,000 acres while acreage sown to coarse grains has jumped about 5 per cent. This week will see a clean-up of barley and rye seeding.

INJUNCTION COMMENT

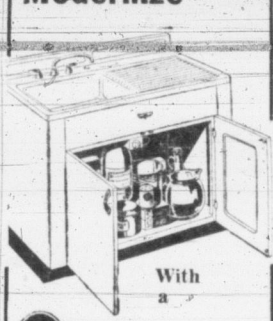

PRINCE ALBERT (CP)—Municipal Affairs Minister McIntosh said Wednesday that "development of a city can't be stopped and there must be ways and means for a city to extend its boundaries."

Mr. McIntosh commented on injunction proceedings against the city of Prince Albert to restrain it from expropriating certain land required for airport runway purposes.

The injunction was filed Tuesday by district farmer John Medynski who claimed that a city by-law dealing with expropriation was ultra vires of the city council. The move came as the city was completing plans for a $300,000 airport runway development.

MINERS WILL VOTE

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan labor relations board has ordered a vote among miners of the Rix-Athabaska uranium mine in northwest Saskatchewan to determine whether they want the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Ind., allegedly Communist-dominated, as their bargaining agent.

Dean F. C. Cronkite, chairman of the board, said Wednesday the board is not satisfied that the union represents a majority of the uranium miners.

The vote likely will be held within the next week, he said.

Although Col. Young declined to quote a figure, he reported last week on returning from an inspection trip to Whitehorse that the disease had affected a total of 53 Canadian servicemen and their dependents. Civilian sources then reported 80 cases.

RCN to Train Reserve Men on Great Lakes

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian navy plans to use the Great Lakes as a "third sea" to train reserve forces, Commodore Kenneth E. Adams told a press conference here Wednesday.

Commodore Adams, commander of Canada's naval reserve, said it is planned to increase "many times" the training facilities which now exist on the lakes, thus relieving pressure on the Atlantic and Pacific commands.

Commodore Adams, whose headquarters are at Hamilton, was here in the course of a Western tour and next will visit Victoria. With the official title of commanding officer naval divisions, he heads a new Canada-wide command, formed only two months ago, and hopes to increase reserve strength from 7,000 to 15,000.

Included in the Great Lakes training, which will be built up gradually, would be university naval training cadets. The plan will get under way next year.

Commodore Adams said plans are being made to alter the types of training for reserves, including the inauguration of correspondence courses in many fields. Reserves would be paid for taking these courses "on the same basis as for drill."

The award is to honor "those among Canada's citizens whose efforts, contribute most to the restoring, revitalizing and conserving of those natural resources which are so perishable at the hands of the unwise and the uninformed."

Nominations will be studied by a board of judges soon to be named by the Canadian Tourist Association, and the first winner will be announced at the association's convention October 16 in Vancouver and Victoria.

The donor is an American banker who has deplored the treatment of natural resources in the United States, and feels "the cause of conservation must constantly possess new champions."

Itching Scalp—Loose Dandruff

Try This Simple Home Treatment For Quick Ease and Comfort

Here is a clean, powerful penetrating oil that brings speedy relief from the almost unbearable itching and discomfort.

Don't dig with your fingernails, that only serves to spread the trouble. Just use equal parts of MOORE'S EMERALD OIL and olive oil. Apply gently with the fingertips to the roots of the hair at least once a day and shampoo every fourth day. You'll find this treatment not only soothes and relieves the itching but helps promote more rapid healing—loose flaking dandruff becomes a thing of the past. Scalp clears up and hair begins to thicken. Thousands of bottles are sold every year to give sufferers swift sure relief from the itching distress of many skin troubles. You can obtain Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any drug store.

Russia Grants Eddy Gilmore's Wife Exit Visa

MOSCOW (UP)—One of the two wives granted an exit visa early this month was that of Eddy Gilmore, Russian-born wife of the Associated Press Moscow bureau chief.

Today the Communists informed U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen that it is willing to permit four more Russian-born wives of American citizens to leave the country.

The question of Russian wives of American citizens was one of the first issues Bohlen took up after his arrival here last April.

Those listed as eligible for visas today were:

Mrs. Henry Shapiro, wife of the United Press Moscow correspondent;

Mrs. Thomas Whitney, wife of Associated Press correspondent Thomas Whitney of Toledo, Ohio;

Mrs. Andrew Steiger, wife of the Reuters News Agency correspondent, whose home is in Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Mrs. George Atkins, wife of a construction engineer attached to the United States Embassy.

Slocan Valley Citizens Demand Army Protection Against Douks

NELSON B.C. (CP)—A demand that the militia be called immediately, take over as per Premier W. A. C. Bennett's promise to these committees June 3.

Another telegram, asking that representatives of the federal and provincial governments meet with the committees "immediately," was sent to Prime Minister St. Laurent, Justice Minister Garson, Premier Bennett and the attorney-general.

The demands followed new violence last weekend blamed on radicals of the Sons of Freedom Doukbor sect.

The groups supported a suggestion that all Doukhobors in the Kootenays be rounded up and screened. If allegiance was sworn, members of the sect who agreed to abide by the laws of the country would be permitted to return to their lands.

New Ferry Owners Praise Yarrows' Skilled Hands at Ship Trials

By PETE LOUDON

Motor vessel Kahloke received her baptism of salt sea spray Wednesday. The 3,190-ton car and passenger ferry scheduled to begin a five-trip daily Nanaimo-Vancouver service June 27, underwent acceptance trials during a six-hour trip through white-capped Juan de Fuca Straits.

She proved as good as the best.

Actually, the hull-plates of the new pride of the Black Ball line have weathered 50 years of coastal service, but from almost the waterline up, Kahloke is brand new.

Her tests bore out the skill of the men of Yarrows Ltd., who completed her transformation from a straight-stacked, high riding City of Sacramento, to the white swan her new Indian name implies.

City of Sacramento was originally Asbury Park. Built in 1903, she plied inland waterways at both coasts until after the Second World War, when she joined the rust and barnacle fleet in a Seattle backwater.

Towed here to Yarrows eight months ago she was stripped to her bare hull, her old steam plant was discarded and a new ship crew in the old shell.

Kahloke is now powered by Deisel electric machinery of 6,000 horsepower which on first trials wound up to nearly 19 knots.

Her 300-foot hull is deep-moulded, to allow fore-and-aft loading of 100 cars through huge water-tight doors. She has a beam of 50 feet.

More than 1,000 passengers can laze in her lounges, one of which is designed for rapid conversion to a cocktail salon. Also there is a spacious coffee bar.

When she commences her 90-minute crossings from Departure Bay (7 minutes out of Nanaimo by car) to Horseshoe Bay, it is expected no one will have to make previous reservations. She will bring to 11 the total of daily return crossings between Vancouver and Nanaimo.

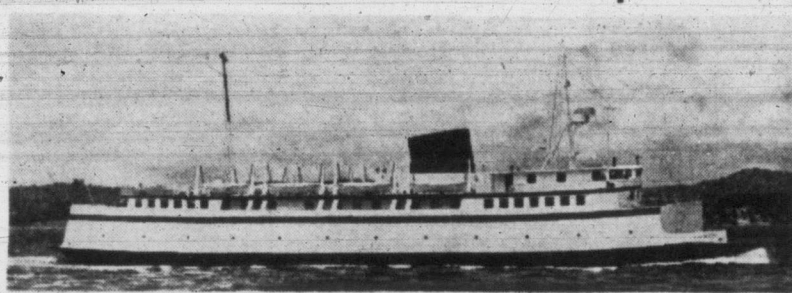

Appropriately, she carries an all-Canadian crew, including three alternating captains, B. J. K. Owen-Jones, Roy Barry and J. L. McCauley. Her three chief mates will be John Callan, Eric Grant and Paul Shives. Relief officer will be John Bunyan. B. O. Tollefson, R. G. Greaves, C. L. Hudson and W. Weston are her chief engineers.

Kahloke's bridge was crowded Wednesday with some of her new officers. George Paulin, president of Black Ball Line, board chairman; Capt. Alex M. Peabody, H. A. Wallace, president of Yarrows Ltd. and officers of the Board of Transport.

They carefully checked the new ship's speeds, her steering system, her communications, radar, life-saving gear and fire apparatus. There is a sprinkler system throughout. They learned that Kahloke has over a ton of the most modern radar on the coast, the same as that installed in the goliath liner United States.

People from Cleveland Deisel were along to check the four high-speed marine engines, the only part of the vessel not built in Canada. Neither engines nor a choppy sea caused noticeable vibration.

Black Ball officials stated they will keep expanding, now Kahloke is built. They say crews are being trained to man a ship on a Pender Harbor to Nanaimo run as soon as highway connections on the mainland are completed, either this fall or in the spring.

That the trials were a success is reflected in the remarks of Captain Peabody, who will accept the ship from Yarrows.

He waved at the workmen still feverishly finishing last-minute jobs.

"We are amazed and grateful at the excellent job these men have done in only eight months since the contract was signed. Victoria should be proud of them, they have done a wonderful job," he said.

BLACK BALL SUPPER CRUISE FOR WORKMEN AND FAMILIES

The men that built the new Black Ball car-passenger ferry My. Kahloke in Yarrows Ltd. yards here will be guests of the owners for an evening supper-cruise next week.

Capt. A. M. Peabody, chairman of the Black Ball board of directors, has invited the men, their wives and children on one of two cruises June 23 and 24.

The vessel will leave from its present berth at Yarrows, where it is winding up acceptance trials. It goes on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run June 27.

8 Victoria Daily Times THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1953

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The players change but somehow there's a familiar look about the face.

The Tyees of today are a different ball club than came out of Sonoma, Calif., two months ago, but has anyone noticed what actually has transpired?

Starting at first, big Chuck Abernathy is holding down the post where Joe Clardy started before a sprained ankle led to Chuck's return and Clardy's sale to Salem.

Lu Brannan is back at second after sitting out a trial period for Herman Charles at third while Don Pries moved into the key-stone hole. Now Charles is gone and Pries is guarding the hot corner in his accustomed cunning.

There's none better than Jim Clark at shortstop, young Ron Odekerk having the hands, but not the bat while Clark was out with a finger injury. And there was little doubt that Jim would return to all his former glory. Yes, even as the club's clean-up hitter for a time.

In left field it's Bob Moniz, whom Portland appreciated for a time, but finally thought more of others, enabling his return to the Tyee campus. Cec Garriott is still snatching base hits from would-be batters in center field, while out in right, satchel-pants Granny Gladstone is sighting his rifle on the field barrier.

Gone to pasture in other fields are Gale Taylor and Napoleon Guley.

Behind the plate is the Portland shotgun Milt Martin, who, if he ever learns to time that jug-handled curve ball, wouldn't be long for this league. Sam Bruce, who couldn't hit the jug, either, let alone a fast ball, has since departed for the southern clime of Florida.

Now This Has a Familiar Look

There are others, too, but doesn't that line-up ring a bell, even more so with Dwayne Helbig, the handsome college muscle man, available for outfield relief?

It's the same squad exactly which Garriott led to the 1952 Western International League championship, except for the pitching corps and minus John Treece who shared third base action with Pries until eventually and obviously overshadowed in the dash for the wire. And even out there on the hill a similarity approaching pennant potential is beginning to appear.

Bill Prior is better than he was last year and should be considered the No. 1 man on the staff. Bill Bottler's fast ball, if ever harnessed to its fullest extent, would make him the major league prospect the Beavers believe they have in the crew-cut youngster. Earl Dollins has more than lived up to Garriott's expectations in recent performances, while Bob Drilling, who so far hasn't been able to win for losing, and in the toughest possible fashion, could suddenly blossom into a reasonable right-handed facsimile of Ben Lomino.

In reserve are Berlyn Hodges, Zeb Walker, Bill Wisneski, Pete Younie and Hugh King. Though the latter pair have yet to show, the others have displayed enough to be retained and if this group only produces one as a possible starter, then the mound corps should prove competent to match others in the second-half league race.

Yes, things have changed, and for the better. It'll be like old home week from now on and the Tyees should be on the move, and spurred on by the well wishers of yore.

SECOND WEEK ENDS

Michelson's Beauty Tops Weekly Ladder

Earland Michelson, with a 24 1/2-pound fish to his credit, topped the list of 50 anglers who qualified for the final fish-off in the annual Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association last week.

Michelson receives $15 in weekly prize money for his efforts while Fred Wright, Howard Leggett, Arthur Ward and George Alexander, who placed in that order, took weekly fishing prizes. Alex Low topped the hidden-weight prize with an eight-pounder.

Fishing on the third ladder, 50 to qualify, began Wednesday morning and will continue until Tuesday evening. Official results of last week's ladder follow:

1-Earland Michelson	24 1/2

Drue hopes to get into Saturday's Connaught Cup game with Nanaimo Eagles. The game was switched Wednesday night from Heywood Avenue Park to McDonald Park. Game time is 2:30.

United has recruited further strength for the series with the signing of Adanac's John Weldon and Don Henry and Bill Bamford of Civil Service.

Coldwell Tries But Esquimalt Defeats Mary's

George Coldwell, Mary's Coffee Bar runner, managed out a home run and three singles at Central Park Wednesday but to no avail as his team went down to defeat at the hands of Esquimalt Athletics, 11-6, in a Senior "B" softball league game.

Win gave Athletics a firm grip on third place and left them within striking distance of the league leaders, Tillikums, and second-place Fosters.

Cliff Hergott picked up the win for Athletics and was given good backing by his mates who reached three Mary's Coffee Bar hurlers for nine hits. Esquimalt scored seven runs in the first three innings.

The Super Chief Answers the Bell Record Field Vies for Ontario Open Tee Title

NEW YORK (UP)—Indian Allie Reynolds was back victoriously in a starting role for the New York Yankees today but ready to throw his arm off from the bullpen too, in what he insists will be his windup year.

"It's easier taking your regular turn and a pitcher will last longer that way than he will pitching relief," said the super chief from Oklahoma. "But there's no use of me saving my arm because this is it for me."

And while he is on the scene, the Yankee team shooting for a record fifth straight pennant knows that Reynolds is the man who can hurl them home again.

For he was the big stopper during the Yankees' recent 18-game winning streak. When Allie first came from the Indians in 1947, there were malicious whispers that he didn't have it in the clutch. Quickly he made them eat those words, and he's still at it.

As an example, consider the Chief's record this season in which he can boast of only six wins against two defeats. Those figures are distressingly inaccurate.

Because in the last month, Reynolds has been pitching himself into shape in the bullpen. In that time he has made 10 relief appearances. Three of those games he won. The other seven he saved. Anything better would be impossible.

"I wasn't worried about getting back as a starter," Reynolds said Wednesday before he went to the mound to beat the St. Louis Browns. "We were trying to break that record of 19 wins in a row. Casey Stengel told me that, if we ever tied it, I'd be the one to go for the new record."

Another factor which forced Stengel to keep his big man in the pen was that the rest of his staff was shaky and Old Casey likes Allie's fast ball and calm courage when the joint gets to jumping.

"We've all had a rough spring," Allie said. "I was fine when the season started but the cold weather got to me."

He was "fine" as he won his first two starts but then the cold weather caught up to him. Allie dropped one, picked up a win in relief and twice was taken off the hook himself.

Two more relief jobs, in which he won one and saved another set Allie up for another start on May 22. He lasted only one inning—and until yesterday was working out his kinks in the bullpen.

The Yanks were lucky he was. Because Indian Allie since then answered the alarm seven more times—saving six and winning one.

Those old bone chips still rattling around in his pitching elbow, Allie wasn't worried about overwork. He plans to step down after this season to take a lucrative job in the Oklahoma oil fields, one in which he figures to make more money even than he would with a world championship team.

"I can't go on forever," he said, "and after all, I'm 37, not 35 like they have me listed in the record books."

But he'd like to go out a big gun, starting and relieving, too. Which is why Allie was hearing down Wednesday. He needed help, himself, from Johnny Sain in the eighth, after yielding only three hits that far, but it didn't bother him.

"I've been warming up two or three minutes in the bullpen," Allie grinned. "I guess that 15-minute pre-game warm-up tired me out."

But not enough, the Browns admitted, because the Super Chief still is high-balling down the straightaway.

WINDSOR, Ont. (UP)—Defending champion Gerry Kesselring faced a record field of 144 standout Canadian and American shotsmiths today as he set out on the first 18-hole round of the $2,500 Ontario Open over the flat par 72 Essex Golf Club.

There were 82 pros and 62 amateurs on the links.

The 6,883-yard course was in top condition for the meet. Clear weather prevailed and temperatures were in the 70's.

Kesselring, the young Kitchener amateur, shot a sizzling four-under-par 68 Wednesday in a practice round. Ken Jacobs, an almost unknown amateur from Toronto Scarborough, carded a 69 in the same party. Most of the other entries arrived too late for a practice run.

The field will be cut to the 60 low scores and ties for Friday's 36-hole final round.

First prize to the top pro will be $1,000. The runner-up gets $500, and from $350 for third the prize money dips down to $25 apiece for the last five of the first dozen.

FIRST THREESOME

The first threesome of Larry Edwards, Toronto Mississauga; Eddie Nizolek, Essex, and Lou Georgas, Owen Sound, left at 9:30 a.m. for the first round.

followed over the well-trapped course by two threesomes every 15 minutes.

Kesselring was teamed at 1 p.m. with Bob Burns, Cherry Hills, and Tex Ardayno, Dearborn Hills.

He faced hot competition from an exceptionally strong contingent from across the border. They included Smiley Quick, of Pasadena, Cal., who tied for fifth in the Pennsylvania Open two days ago; Fred Hawkins, Tucson, Ariz., tied for second place in the 1951 Canadian Open; Pete Fleming, St. Andrews, Ill.; Leo Blaggett, Texas; Al Watrous, veteran pro from Detroit who knows the course well; and Mike Dietz, Detroit, who shared second place open money three years ago.

YANK STARS

Other American stars just back from the U.S. Open at Pittsburgh's Oakmont included Walter Burkemo, Detroit; Wallie Ulrich, Minneapolis; Bill Kozak, Youngstown, N.Y.; and Bob Inman, Tulsa, Okla.

The early starters were met by a spotty showing of Ontario pros. Rudy Horvath of the host club was fated, highly, along with clubmate Nick Westlock who won when the Open was last held here in 1949. Bob Gray of Scarboro, runner-up last year, and Murray Tucker of Toronto Rosedale, also attracted a considerable following.

Rotary Wins Again

Rotary racked up its second straight Little League baseball victory and became a definite threat to the league leaders by downing second-place Odd Fellows, 10-6, at Little League Park Wednesday night.

Win left Rotary comfortably situated in third spot just one game back of North Kiwanis, who are currently sitting on top of the league, and only one-half game behind Odd Fellows.

Don Collier went the distance for the winners, although in trouble nearly every inning, and picked up his first victory of the season. The little hurler

Intercity League May Retain Six-Man Game

VANCOUVER (CP)—Executives of the five-team Inter-City senior box lacrosse league will decide Friday night whether the six-man team will be retained in favor of the seven-man squad used in eastern Canada.

All the teams are expected to favor the six-man team. It had been thought that the Vancouver Pilseners and Victoria Shamrocks would oppose retention of the present system. But the two have since indicated that they would go along with the six-man setup because of its popularity with fans.

Explaining Victoria's position, Ralph Baker said, "At the first of the season the president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association asked us to give six-man lacrosse a try. We did. The east didn't bother. Let's show them we don't intend to be pushed around. To heck with the Mann Cup. Let the CLA rule it be played with six-man teams. It was their idea. It has proved popular here. It's the fans we want to please."

Another reason for sticking with the present system was advanced by Clary Jensen, coach of the PNE Indians.

"It's far easier on the players, especially with the number of times we play two nights in a row. This way we carry three lines and the players get more chance to rest," he said.

Somewhat the same reason was given by Walt Frazer of the Nanaimo Native Sons and Art Pruden of the New Westminster Salmoniacs. They said, "We don't have enough good men to play seven. Six-man is fine with us."

Two Canadian Oil Firms May Lead Israel Oil Race

NEW YORK (CP)—Two Canadian oil companies may be the first to tap the 2,000,000 acres of potential oil lands in Israel recently concessioned by the Israeli government to seven Canadian, American and European companies.

They expect to be in the field and drilling by August.

Sir Robert Watson-Watts of London, England, president of the New Continental Oil Company of Calgary, announced that exclusive drilling contracts have been awarded to Pontiac Petroleum Ltd. of Calgary, to explore and develop the 800,000 acres granted his company in Israel.

Normal School Awards Given Honor Students

Four honor graduates received awards and diplomas at the annual Normal School graduation banquet at Metropolitan United Church Hall Wednesday night.

The honor students are Margaret Mawer, Betty Ann Carstens, Bonita Evans and Elsie Nyffeler.

Dr. F. T. Fairley, deputy minister of education, in one of his last public appearances before his retirement at the end of June, presented Miss Mawer with the Denton Memorial, the school's highest award.

Miss Carstens received the B.C. Teachers' Federation medal and prize from M. V. Allester, president. Dr. Fairley presented honor diplomas to Miss Evans and Miss Nyffeler.

Parents of this province have real confidence in the teaching profession. Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, guest speaker, told the 375 students, teachers and guests at the banquet.

He said parents were willing to surrender their dearest possessions—their children—to the teachers' care. He referred to the efficient normal school training, the teaching the parents themselves received in their school days and the desire to serve youth evinced by new teachers.

H. O. English, principal, was toastmaster. The annual graduation dance will be held tonight at the Empress.

Sloan Orders New Trial for Man in Kamloops Death

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chief Justice Gordon Sloan, Wednesday, ordered a new trial for Kasabura Masuda, sentenced to die for the murder of his daughter, Mrs. Lily Rine, 16, at Kamloops, last August 7.

Defense counsel R. J. McMaster charged that police appearing for the prosecution had charge of the jury during adjournments in the trial.

COMMENTS:

CLUES ACROSS
1. FACT is best. Clue says "friend". One of the nice things about a real friend is that you don't have to worry particularly about treating him with tact. A FACT may, of course, be called for.
2. SORRY is best. Nobody likes losing money, so heavy losses can certainly make a man SORRY. They won't make him WORRY if he can afford to lose.
3. DEED is best. The DEER is NORMALLY a graceful animal, while there is little point in attempting a "graceful" one. DEED is satisfactory.
4. REVIS is best. To DEVISE is a man who invents and imagines. To REVIS it, he must have full understanding of all the technical problems involved.
5. REFUSE is best. "Well-founded" is practically as good as saying "irrefutable" so it would be more than merely "difficult" to REFUTE it.
6. TAPE is best. "CUTTING TAPE" is something that is very tricky.
7. ACT is best. If people don't appreciate his ACT, a man may be out of a job. True ACT is not commercial, and is pursued with sublime indifference to the opinion of the general public.
8. SAYINGS is best. Inclusion of the word "old" favours SAYINGS. MANY SAYINGS can be helpful, but it is OLD SAYINGS of time-tested wisdom that some men find so useful to fall back on.
9. IVAN is best. The clue says "always" been. Ivan is a very common Russian name and has always been commonly seen since Soviet came to power. The name IVAN has not always been seen by us in Russian magazines but only since about 1925. Before that the word IVAN was used.
10. DUSTY is best. If the garage were well aired and heated and not damp, a car need not get pretty RUSTY but it will get DUSTY almost anywhere.

CLUES DOWN
1. POSE is best. Any pose—so artificially held attitude—might sometimes be described as "wooden" by those who saw it that way. A concrete or iron POST would never be thus described.
2. GRACEFUL is best. Being GRACEFUL is an involuntary feeling. Being GRACEFUL is something that can be acquired, but which doesn't come easily to some people.
3. FEES is best. Unusually big FEES can be worrying, but people with big FEES have had them all their lives, and become mentally conditioned to the fact.
4. FIREARM is best. There are so many things one can do inaccuracy if the FIREARM is in use. FIREARM has a direct link with the idea of shooting.
5. ANNE is best. The clue suggests a name more than one. ANNE is just one name and is ANNE. But Anne is more than one name.
6. RAD is best. Many a RAD doesn't turn out to be a RAD, and is perfectly happy anyway. Why feel sorry for him?

India's textile industry will be 100 years old in 1954. Starting with a single power-driven textile mill, established in Bombay in February, 1854, it has developed into a $200,000,000 industry.

Eskimos of Far North Get Federal Franchise

By ROY VICTOR MACKIE
(Times Ottawa Correspondent)

OTTAWA—Canada's Eskimo population will have its first opportunity to vote in a general election on Aug. 10.

Under an amendment to the Canada Elections Act passed in 1950 the 8,000 Eskimos are now eligible to vote.

Majority of the Eskimos are to be found in the vast Mackenzie River constituency, largest in Canada. It takes in an area of about 500,000 square miles.

Eskimo voters can also cast ballots in Saguenay riding, second largest in the Dominion, covering 385,000 square miles; and in the Yukon and Grand Falls-White Bay-Labrador constituencies.

Those voting in the Yukon will be comparatively small. Only 200 Eskimos reside in that riding, most of them in the far north.

One of the biggest headaches for Nelson Castonguay, Canadian chief electoral officer, is overcoming the obstacles to enable Eskimos to vote.

Enumerating the Eskimos poses many problems. Many of them do not speak English and this will cause complications. There are Eskimos who have voted before on local matters and for representatives to the North West Territories council. But participating in a general election is an entirely new experience.

Enumeration will be conducted through the Eskima settlements when they are visited with supplies. Government employees, factors in trading posts, missionaries and the RCMP will make the lists.

Aircraft will be used to deposit and pick up ballot boxes in the northern constituencies. However, in the Grand Falls-Mackenzie River-Saguenay and Yukon ridings government icebreakers will be used. Much of this riding is frozen throughout the year and is practically inaccessible.

VANCOUVER'S FAMOUS TIME GUN SILENT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tradition was shattered by silence Wednesday night when Vancouver's famed timepiece—the nine o'clock gun in Stanley Park—didn't roll its echo down the miles of harbor. The gun's time switch just went sour and the keeper decided: "What's the use of firing the nine o'clock gun at 9:04?"

SWISS TV
ZURICH, Switzerland (CP)—The city board of engineers plans to build Switzerland's first television station on a mountain near here. It will use a new process developed by Swiss engineers which permits projection of colored TV on large movie screens.

5 Injured in $8,000,000 Alaska Warehouse Fire

WHITTIER, Alaska (UP)—Fire which destroyed a military dock injured five persons, and caused damage estimated today in the millions.

Col. William Bigelow, commanding officer of the port of Whittier from which military supplies are funneled to bases in Alaska's interior, said the complete dock installation, including three large storage

PRaised for TV Broadcast

LONDON (AP)—The vast majority of United States television stations exercised good taste in broadcasts of the Coronation, the House of Commons was told Wednesday by Anthony Nutting, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs. Nutting said: "Her Majesty's ambassador in Washington reports that during the main showing of the television film by the three networks with which the British Broadcasting Corporation made special arrangements, commercials were reduced to an extent unprecedented in American television."

Patient Claims Her Feet Maimed By Surgery Done Without Consent

Dr. Ernest Burgess, a Seattle orthopedic surgeon, testified in Supreme Court here Wednesday that the type of foot operation performed upon Miss Nora C. Drury, 1130 Richardson Street, by a Vancouver surgeon, is not "uncommon" or "unusual."

Miss Drury is suing Dr. H. Hamlyn Boucher, Vancouver, whom she alleges partly crippled her by performing a "proximal phalangectomy" operation on her toes without her consent in Vancouver General Hospital in July, 1949. The operation consisted of removing four small bones from her toes.

She alleges that Dr. Boucher never discussed with her that he intended to remove the bones of her toes. She only found out that the proximal phalanx on the second, third and fourth toes of the left foot were removed after the operation, she alleges.

Claiming that she is only able to walk with great difficulty since the operation, Miss Drury is asking for unstated general damages and $1,700 special damages.

The trial is being heard before Mr. Justice J. M. Coady.

X-RAY EVIDENCE

Dr. Burgess, who appeared as a defense witness, said X-rays taken of Miss Drury's feet seemed to indicate that she can wear normal shoes.

Under cross-examination, Dr. Burgess was asked by lawyer George F. Gregory if it was not unusual for a surgeon to discuss patient.

"Yes," replied the surgeon.

Earlier, Miss Drury testified that Dr. Boucher did not discuss the operation with her.

WEST COAST MARINERS WARNED OF DRIFTING MINE POSITION

West Coast mariners were warned of the presence of a drifting mine today by the department of transport.

The floating menace is reported last at 53 degrees 37' N., longitude 135 degrees 37' W. It was sighted Tuesday afternoon.

The point is about 70 miles ENE of the eastern entrance to Skidegate Channel in the Queen Charlottes.

The department also advised that the Gery Point Fairway gas and bell buoy has been replaced in its charted position.

Canadian Doctors to Fight State Medicine

WINNIPEG, Man. (BUP)—The 10,000 doctors represented by the Canadian Medical Association "will not stand idly by" if a trend toward socialized medicine continues in this country. They will call a "special" meeting and tell the government in power that CMA standards cannot be jeopardized by the interests of "political expediency."

"Dr. Charles W. Burns of Winnipeg, new president of the association, made this position clear Wednesday night in an address to the annual dinner of the 86th convention. He of time."

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, June 18th—It's true! Lemons can be glamorous—as you'll discover when you treat the family to this glorious lemon dessert, made with the finest, juiciest lemons of all—SUNKIST LEMONS.

SUNKIST LEMON-COCOONUT GLAMOUR PIE
1/2 cup butter 2 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar 4 tablespoons Sunkist lemon juice
3 whole eggs 3 tablespoons grated lemon peel

Combine butter and sugar in top of double boiler. Add whole eggs, egg yolks, lemon juice and peel. Mix well. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thick. Chill and pour into cool baked 9-inch pastry shell. Top with meringue. I know you'll agree—the filling captures the fresh, tangy flavor of the Sunkist lemons to perfection. And the coconut adds a special touch of glamour.

Saanich Strikers Request Departmental Intercession

The Provincial Labor Department has been requested by Saanich Employees' Association to intervene in the strike of some 150 municipal employees. It was disclosed at a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council (TLC) Wednesday.

T. C. Gooderham, spokesman for the association, said the labor department was approached because the council has turned down every wage proposal of the union to end the three-week-old strike.

The labor department will soon meet both parties and will endeavor to find a solution to end the wage dispute, Mr. Gooderham said.

The date of the first meeting has not been set yet, he said. Mr. Gooderham also warned that the strike may continue for some time due to the attitude of some members of the council.

Reeve Joseph Casey refused to comment on the new move of the association to end the strike.

Mr. E. D. Cummins is the only member of the council who has indicated that he would like to see the strike settled as soon as possible. Mr. Cummins feels that both parties can arrive at a "fair" wage agreement.

Old Oak Bay High Will Reopen If Run-Down Building is Restored

If costly repairs necessary to bring the old Oak Bay high school up to municipal building standards are undertaken by the Greater Victoria School Board, Oak Bay Council will permit its use for classes again this year.

The decision came at Wednesday's council meeting after reading of a letter from the school board which said more than 60 grade one pupils cannot be registered this year unless accommodation can be found.

The board asked council to consider making the old high school available again.

It reverted to the municipality last year when the new high school was opened. Since then its future has been uncertain.

It was thought likely that due to its run-down condition it would be demolished. Reeve P. A. Gibbs pointed out to council that the upper floor of the building had been condemned, the roof leaks, the electrical wiring system is overloaded and there is much mould.

A committee comprising municipal engineer, A. S. G. Murgrave, the building inspector and the chairman of the works committee, plans to meet with the school board. If the board will join in a survey and undertake the repairs the school will reopen in September.

30,000 Voters in New Esquimalt-Saanich Riding

Creation of the new riding of Esquimalt-Saanich brings to four the number of federal ridings on Vancouver Island. It was established by taking away a large southern portion of Nanaimo riding. New riding has about 30,000 voters, compared to Victoria's 50,000. Above sketch shows boundaries of southern Island ridings. Northern boundary of Esquimalt-Saanich riding runs from Fort San Juan on West Coast (includes Port Renfrew), proceeds easterly along Harris Creek, takes a slight southeasterly jog and then goes in a straight line to the vicinity of Waterloo Mountain. It goes north at this point for a short distance and then due west to the east coast, just south of Cowichan Bay village, following Satellite Channel, just missing Moresby Island, and proceeding down Haro Strait. The new riding includes Shawigan, Cobble Hill, Sidney and part of Saanich. Esquimalt-Saanich's southern boundary, which is the north boundary of Victoria riding, starts on the west at a point about the middle of Esquimalt Harbor, follows the municipality's boundary east to the Gorge, along Victoria Arm to the city limits on Harriet Road to Burnside Road, thence along Tolmie Avenue to North Dairy Road, to Argyle Avenue, north to Ruby and Gordon Head Roads and then southeasterly along Dawson Road to Cadboro Bay.

Smear Charge Levelled At Times' Publisher

Premier Bennett Denies Suggestion Of Sacred Party Authoritarianism

Premier W. A. C. Bennett today accused Times' publisher Stuart Keate of "intentionally or unintentionally" starting a new smear campaign against Social Credit in B.C., and spreading "unadulterated partisan political propaganda."

Premier Bennett suggested that Mr. Keate, "who now claims to be the great spokesman for the remnants of the Liberal party, perhaps should be the federal Liberal candidate in Victoria" in the Aug. 10 election so he could test his ideas on the hustings.

The premier made the statement during a press conference when he referred to an address delivered by Mr. Keate in Nanaimo on Tuesday to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island.

He noted Mr. Keate quoted himself (Bennett) as saying: "People may say there must be a strong opposition—but it is my opinion there must be a strong one-party administration."

THREAT INTERPRETATION

Mr. Keate interpreted this as "a threat of authoritarian government."

Premier Bennett's reaction to this:

"If Mr. Keate had been at any public meeting addressed by myself during the campaign, he would have known I said at all of them that our free democratic way of life, in which Social Credit believes, could only function if we had a system of checks and balances."

"As leader of the Social Credit movement in B.C., I believe we should have a strong government—not a minority government. But also there is a proper place and always must be for the Official Opposition so that they may bring forward constructive criticism in parliamentary debate."

"Social Credit is the most democratic of any of the political movements seeking public support in Canada."

Premier Bennett also objected to Mr. Keate saying Socialists are claiming "only three good men are needed to run a government" (Bennett, Bonner and Gundersen).

Said the premier:

"This is unadulterated partisan political propaganda."

"As a Social Credit movement is a people's movement, and to have good government we must have a good cabinet, sufficient private members, and an enlightened and informed public opinion, and, of course, opposition with constructive ideas—so that our parliamentary system of government can function properly."

LIBERAL CANDIDATE

"I would suggest that Mr. Keate, who now claims to be the great spokesman for the remnants of the Liberals in B.C., perhaps be the Liberal candidate in Victoria."

Premier Bennett suggested the publisher test his ideas on the hustings.

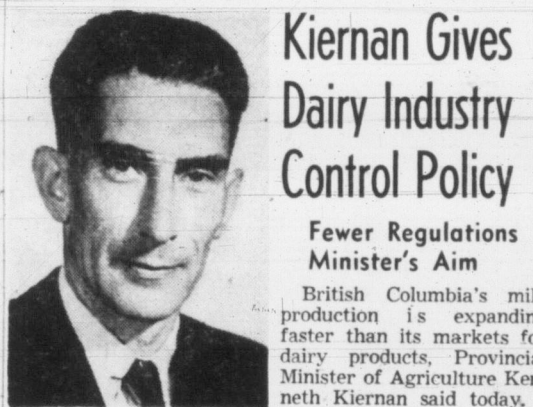

MASSEY THANKS TIMES FOR FLOOD RELIEF AID

Governor-General Vincent Massey has written to inform contributors in Victoria that donations to the Canadian National European Flood Relief Fund closed at a total of $3,000,144.55.

In a letter to Times publisher Stuart Keate, His Excellency recalls the newspaper's "spontaneous and willing offer to help" by sponsorship of the Victoria fund.

The relief operation, he writes, is now entering a more difficult period involving rehabilitation in the flooded areas, which may be spread over several months.

"I am very grateful to you for the contribution you made to the success of the appeal," Mr. Massey concludes.

Kiernan Gives Dairy Industry Control Policy

Fewer Regulations Minister's Aim

FARM MINISTER Kenneth Kiernan today welcomed to B.C. delegates from milk control boards from Canada and U.S. who opened two-day convention at Empress Hotel.

Permit for Apartment Building Issued Here

A permit for erection of a seven-suite apartment at 429 Vancouver Street, to cost $40,000, was issued today by City Building Inspector J. W. Oosterink.

Plans call for a four-car garage.

H. E. Fowler & Sons Ltd. are the owners and D. C. Frame, the architect.

Two Men Injured

CAMPBELL RIVER—Two Vancouver men were injured in widely separated accidents here Wednesday, and are now in Lourdes Hospital.

Victor Abney, 30, apparently was struck on the head by a stove while working alone on a wooden intake pipe at the John Hart dam.

Carmen Lillie, 34, suffered a fracture of the right arm when struck by the branch of a tree he was felling at MacMillan and Bloedel Camp Five.

BUILDERS PLAN HOUSE SALE FOR SOLARIUM

Victoria Contractors' Association will put its talents to work this year for the benefit of Queen Alexandra Solarium.

According to preliminary plans, the association members will build a house, then turn proceeds of its sale, over to the Solarium. Details of the plan, discussed at the association's regular meeting this week, have yet to be arranged.

Speakers at the meeting were John McCulloch, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation branch manager here, and Gordon G. Rennie, corporation appraiser.

Bennett Plans Tax Agreement Trip in Fall

Will See Counsel At Toronto Parley

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today he expects to go to Ottawa "in the fall" to fight for better financial returns for B.C. from the federal government.

The premier, who will be in Toronto June 26 and 27 for a national Social Credit conference, said he will discuss Dominion-provincial relations at that time with Carl Goldenberg, economic counsel, who is preparing B.C.'s case for better treatment from the senior government.

But he did not feel this is the right time to approach Ottawa, and anyway Mr. Goldenberg hasn't finished preparing B.C.'s submission.

"We don't think the climate is ripe in the heat of an election campaign," said Premier Bennett. "After the election, we expect there will be a government in Ottawa more favorably disposed to better treatment of provincial governments."

Finance Minister Einar Gundersen will accompany him to Ottawa, the premier said.

Premier Bennett has planned the Ottawa trip since early in the year.

LEAVES SUNDAY

The premier will leave Sunday for the national Social Credit conference along with a sizeable representation from B.C.

The conference will draft a Social Credit platform for the Aug. 10 federal election.

Premier Bennett has some specific ideas of his own on what the platform should contain.

They include: 1, immediate reduction of interest rates; 2, lower down payment for home builders with material reduction in interest rates; 3, immediate reduction in personal income taxes, single person's $2,000, married person's $3,000 and exemption of $750 for each child; 4, the Canadian dollar to be kept below the American dollar, to assist the sale abroad of Canada's basic export commodities such as wheat, cattle and lumber; 5, federal participation in all main highways and greatly expanded construction.

Long Dow admitted wounding Lee Dow and was remanded to Friday for sentence.

Lee was present in the court, wearing a large bandage on the upper left side of his head. He appeared to be several years younger than accused.

A large blood-stained bread knife with an eight-inch blade was exhibited to Magistrate Hall as the weapon Long had used.

Constable T. H. MacArthur told the court he went to 533 Fisgard Street late Wednesday afternoon owing to a dispute between the accused and complainant over the use of a community kitchen. Witness said the trouble was temporarily settled.

CAME TO POLICE

The officer said Lee later came to the police station bleeding from a knife slash on the side of the head and a sliced finger. He was treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Jack Yipp, interpreter, conveyed the evidence given in the case to Long and also relayed accused's story to the court.

Long said Lee Dow kicked at his door several times "and told me to come out and fight."

He said there was always trouble between them. He accused Lee of taking his cooking utensils and slashing his shoes and clothing.

"And he puts ashes in the receptacle where I always keep the rice," accused declared.

It was at this point he said he was too old to fight and had to use the knife.

CLOUDED ANSWER

Magistrate Hall asked Yip to ask Long if he thought it was alright to use the knife. The answer to that question was not clear.

The magistrate observed that there appeared to be bad blood between the two and there was the possibility of more conflict.

Magistrate Hall asked Yip if he thought there was any possibility of having the pair separated. The interpreter said he did not know; and the magistrate adjourned the case so that this possibility could be investigated.

Victorians Home From Korea

Chinese Tough Fighters, Returning Troops Report

Chinese "Communist" soldiers are hard fighters and "hard to stop once they start an attack," according to one of four Victorians back in Canada after Korean service.

"The Commies are good soldiers, well equipped, and pretty sneaky," said L-Cpl. Pete Matwychuk, 426 Obed Avenue.

Cpl. Matwychuk, Tpr. Pete Donald, 1960 Ernest, and Tpr. Fred Bull, 2740 Fifth Street, served with the Lord Strathcona's Horse that sailed for the Far East in May of 1952.

Also back on Canadian soil are Pte. Ken Marson, PPCLI, and two up-Island men, Tpr. Alex Fairley of Parksville, and Tpr. F. R. Fraser, Duncan.

Although others were scheduled to arrive by steamer from Vancouver, Cpl. Matwychuk took passage to Nanaimo Wednesday night, then caught a bus to arrive home at 11:15 p.m.

Waiting to greet him were his wife, his 18-month-old daughter who was an infant when he left, and his son of six months, who met his father for the first time.

Cpl. Matwychuk was high in his praise of Canadian soldiers in Korea.

"They are outstanding," he said. "They are doing the best job they can, with no fooling around."

He said the hardest fighting was during the recent trace talks in Korea, finding that "the more they talked the more they fought."

QUEEN FOR QUEEN'S CROWNING

Coronation Film Draws Record 30,000 Patrons

By PHIL LEE Times Movie Reviewer

More than 30,000 Vancouver Islanders trooped through the doors of the Odeon Theatre during the past week to view the J. Arthur Rank Coronation film, "A Queen Is Crowned," it was learned today.

This is believed to more than double any previous record set by a Victoria theatre.

"A Queen Is Crowned" starts its second "hold-over" week's run today.

The tremendous crowds that have been patiently queuing Yates and Blanshard Streets daily from 11 in the morning on through the day until the final performance of the Technicolor extravaganza in the evening, have been made up of all ages and from all walks of life.

There have been the school student, the office worker, the housewife. There have been the aged and infirm who have been wheeled in in chairs, who have come on crutches and on canes, determined to see the film of the young queen crowned despite their own pain and frailties. They have come as infants-in-arms and as gallant 96-year-olds.

Many of those viewing "A Queen Is Crowned" haven't been to a movie in 10 or 15 years.

Approximately one-quarter of the first week's record-breaking crowd was made up of schoolchildren and students.

According to Elliott Brown, Odeon's manager, this number has been kept comparatively low because of examinations and other, competing necessities.

Government Moves To Buy Property At Popular Beach

The provincial government has offered to purchase the property around Witty's Lagoon to develop as a provincial park, a parks division official said today.

He said the government has written to members of the Witty family asking them to set a price on the 80 acres which comprise the old Witty farm.

The parks' division already has carried out surveys to determine the most suitable location for a road access to the fine beach and wooded area.

The government has not received an offer yet, mainly because remaining members of the Witty family are scattered. Mrs. Witty lived on the farm until her death last year.

DEVELOPMENT URGED

Purchase of the area by the government would mark the end of a successful campaign by several local organizations which have been urging its development for some time.

The parks' division plans to build a road into the most attractive part of the area, construct picnic tables and lay on water supplies.

"If we can purchase the property, it will become an excellent provincial park," an official said.

The park would be one of the closest provincial parks to the city.

It would accommodate "several thousand persons."

The area is considered a landmark in Victoria, its origin going back to the early days of settlement on the island.

Agreement Signed On Compensation For CD Workers

An agreement has been signed by the federal and provincial governments under which civil defense workers, injured while actually undergoing civil defense training, will be paid compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black announced today.

By this agreement, the actual costs of any such compensation will be shared equally between the two governments.

"The signing of this agreement is considered to be an important milestone in the development of the desired civil defense organization in B.C.," Mr. Black said.

Labor Council Protests CPR Ship Contract

Victoria Labor Council (VLC) will protest current layoffs in Canadian shipyards at the same time that the Canadian Pacific Railway is placing orders for tonnage in Great Britain.

Edwin Haw, secretary, was instructed at a council meeting Wednesday to demand of the federal government that the Canadian Maritime Commission function in the same manner as the United States' commission.

If this were done, he said, then ships purchased elsewhere for Canadian trade would be charged at 50 per cent tariff. Repairs done to Canadian ships in foreign countries would be similarly taxed, he said.

Dragon Crew Sailing South For Big Race

The sleek yacht Dragon will slip out of Esquimalt harbor tonight on the first lap of a voyage that will end in a race next month in Honolulu. Most of her 11-man crew is Victorians.

Cruising south first to California, the 66½-foot ketch will enter in a 2,300-mile race from San Pedro to the Pacific island which starts July 4.

Moored today opposite the View Royal home of her owner, master Capt. W. B. Holms, RCN (Ret), Dragon weighs anchor at 9:30 p.m.

Crew members from this area include Dr. R. J. Wride, ship's doctor and official historian; A. David Rogers, radio operator and cook. His assistant will be Chester Williams of Vancouver. Sailing master in charge of sails and rigging is Andrew Wright.

Percy Belson, Peter Young, Dennis Roberts and Edward Leitch of Victoria and Dr. Donald Longley of Vancouver will serve "before the mast."

NAVIGATOR JOINING

Joining the little party of mariners at San Pedro will be Steven Enke, navigator. He is formerly of this city, now lives at Pacific Palisades, California.

Capt. Holms decided against collecting more experienced hands from southern yachting clubs in order to keep his ship's company all-Canadian. Dragon is the only Canadian entry since the annual race was first held in 1906.

Thirty boats are entered in the race, some from the Atlantic coast. They hope to better a record of 10 days, 10 hours for the open-sea voyage.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Cases of Stanley Christensen, 22, and Thomas Lancaster, 18, no fixed addresses, charged with breaking and entering the High School Coffee Shop, 1305 Gladstone, were further adjourned to Saturday in city police court today.

Christensen has elected trial before Magistrate H. C. Hall. Lancaster a preliminary hearing with a higher court trial.

A city motorist suffered head lacerations in a Fairfield traffic accident early today.

Stanley H. Powell, 917 McClure, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital after the car he was driving was in collision with another reportedly driven by Bernard Bling, 1140 Transit at 12:15 a.m. at May and Linden.

Police said damage to the cars was heavy.

City fire department had three false alarms Wednesday night.

Three vehicles were rushed to Fernwood and Gladstone at 11:58 p.m. when the box alarm was rung in. The same box was rung in at 1:26 a.m. and 1:53 a.m. today.

City police checking cars on the Arthur C. Brown Used Car Lot at 845 Yates at 1:10 a.m. today found the upholstery slashed in two vehicles.

Seven boys, aged from five to 10, responsible for smashing 13 windows in the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club hall on Amphion Street, were caught Wednesday night, James Hobson, 1970 Argyle, reported to city police. Police interviewed all parents of the boys. The parents promised to pay a $60 damage bill.

Mayor Claude Harrison has accepted an invitation to go on the inaugural trip of Mx. Kahloke, between Horseshoe Bay and Nanaimo 9:30 a.m., June 27.

SHOPPING GUIDE

It's Here! Dusting Talc In Puff-Spray Containers

By PENNY SAVER

Puff! ... Just arrived in Victoria and making a big hit is the "puff-puff" ... a dainty new squeeze bottle that looks like a miniature pink accordion. A slight squeeze of the plastic container will release a filmy fluff of famous "Blue Grass" dusting powder. A fragrant summer two-tone ... powder and matching cologne ... are paired together in a pink box with a window to show off the accordion inside. Price for the pair is $2.25.

A dainty camisole can make a sheer nylon blouse look out of this world ... but why wear a camisole when a camisole-slip costs very little more? What's more, when you wear a camisole-slip there aren't bulky elastics of a separate half-slip and camisole that add inches to the waistline! Made of frosty white pre-shrunk cotton with plenty of Swiss eyelet embroidery on the camisole top and deep flounce around the bottom the slips cost $3.79 each and come in a size range of 32 to 40.

Casserole dishes must be getting mighty popular in these parts, 'cause every time I turn around I see something new in ovenware. Right now I'm thinking of a type of ware made of clay and fired into a semi-vitrified piece. As is customary in this type of ware, the outside is left unglazed to obtain soft, even baking qualities and to retain heat long after removal from the oven. If your guests should happen to be hours late, the main course will not be spoiled because of this wonderful heat retention. Be careful, now! Don't subject this ware to extreme changes of temperature. For example, it will crack if you take it out of the refrigerator and put it directly into the oven. Prices are $1.50, $3.50 and $7.50, depending upon size of casserole. A pamphlet containing many appetizing recipes is included when you purchase a casserole.

I find that skirt racks holding five or six skirts are a marvellous space-saver in small clothes closets, and now I see that you can buy blouse racks in the same style! They are made of plated wire with six free-swinging arms to hold blouses or shirts. ... Just 15 cents.

Should I ever mention an item that appeals to you, folks, don't hesitate to give me a 'phone call! I would be only too glad to tell you where you can buy it!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Man Objects to Bare Legs In Office; Urges Stockings

The following is a quotation from a man's letter.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"Can you write something about those office women who come to work without stockings? I suppose they do it for reasons of economy, but it is poor economy and poor taste, and we men who are in the same office find it unattractive.

"I am afraid to sign my name, as any man would be who wrote this, but can't you put it over to the girls that they look anything but properly dressed when they appear without stockings? Of course the women who do this are in the minority.

"An office man with ideals of propriety."

I must admit I agree that in most offices it is better taste to wear stockings. A few years ago appearing in an office without them would have been shocking. However, during the war, because of shortages of nylon and silk, women discovered how much more comfortable they were in hot weather without hosiery.

I think it depends on the type of office and the temperature. As a general rule a girl is not likely to be considered top-level material with her stockings off. She lacks a dignity and taste which is required of executives or those in positions of responsibility.

On the other hand, in the tropics where the heat is sometimes almost unbearable, there is more leniency in such matters. Even then, if a woman is ambitious she should be on the safe side.

When going without stockings during leisure and play time, and sometimes even to gala affairs, use one of the wonderful leg makeups available today.

It is impossible to tell the difference between these and stockings (if they are applied skillfully) in the evening, and almost impossible to tell the difference in the daytime.

Another complaint which has come from the masculine sector concerns women bosses, mainly that they are too bossy. This opinion sometimes comes from a man who is old-fashioned and is irked by the fact that women are in such positions. However, women in business have to watch the emotional and temperamental factors. A woman can take up for herself but she always accomplishes much more if she retains her own charming feminine personality while doing so.

Velvet To Be Featured This Autumn In Black, Pinks and Misty Colors

MONTREAL (CP)—In the midst of the city's first heat wave, fall fashions for 1953 have come to Montreal. They have brought with them a world of velvet, misty colors, third dimension and slim lines. Some of the new styles were unveiled recently as fashion week opened with a "It's velvet for fall '53" show and an all-Canadian presentation by the Montreal Fashion Institute.

The Coronation is, of course, responsible for new popularity of velvet. The lavish fabric is used in dresses, coats and accessories. In colors, black steals the show from scarlet and crimson in the little suit or the chic coat. The little black suit appeared in several guises. It could be trimmed with pearls and a bosom front of pleated chiffon, or topped with blush-satin and chintilly lace overlay. Viscose velvet was also used as a trim and was shown on the deep tuxedo reverses and cuffs of a loose coat and on a foam green dinner dress. White net with bands of chintilly formed the portrait panel on an elegant ball gown of inky black velvet.

How Does a Man React To Broken Betrothal?

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a girl breaks her engagement, what can a man do to win her back? That is the question raised by this letter:

"Q. I had been engaged for six months. Suddenly my fiancée broke our engagement. We never quarrelled and seemed perfectly matched. Let me ask you these questions: Can too much thoughtfulness and consideration drive a loved one away? Can a man's argument in strengthening love? I am wondering if this is where I made my mistake?"

A. When two people love each other it is certainly not necessary to have on occasional argument to strengthen their love. In fact arguments are more likely to lead to trouble. When people argue they often say things better left unsaid. As a result they hurt the other person's feelings and deflate his ego. This is not a good way to strengthen love. There can be no such thing as too much thoughtfulness and consideration toward a loved one. This would not weaken the love tie but strengthen it. Only when a girl is not sincerely in love is she affected unfavorably by too much thoughtfulness and consideration.

I am afraid you are on the wrong track in trying to find out what lies behind your broken engagement. The reasons you suspect as being at the root of the trouble are not the true ones. Why not ask the young lady for an explanation? You are certainly entitled to it. If you do not get it you will continue to think that you were at fault and that you did something to weaken her love.

I am sure you will find the cause of the trouble quite different from what you now suspect. I am also convinced that you will find that it has nothing to do with your behavior but to some feeling of inadequacy on her part.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Uncle Hears Vows For Mary Nunns, Wilfred Lessard

Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Russell Nunns, Cumberland, V.I., exchanged vows with Wilfred Lessard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lessard, Lyall Street, in a Saturday evening double ceremony performed by the bride's uncle, Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns.

Entering Holy Trinity Church, Cumberland, on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown with bouffant skirt and lace bodice featuring an Elizabethan collar. Her short veil was held in place by a pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Maid of honor for her sister, Miss Dorothy Nunns, wore a pink ballerina-length gown of lace and net with stole, hat and mitts. Her bouquet was blue and white carnations.

Miss Wendy Jarvis, niece of the bride and Michael Rasmus, cousin of the groom, as flower girl and ring bearer, led the bridal procession. Flower girl wore a pale blue frock with matching hat and mitts and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Ray Haggart was best man and Arthur Kaye and Garnet Bulmer were ushers.

During signing of the register, Mrs. A. Williams sang.

H. Baikie proposed the toast to the bride at a reception held in Cumberland Masonic Hall. The room was decorated in pink and white and guests were received by the bride party, as they stood under a floral trellis.

Mrs. Lessard wore a French maid suit of light grey wool with matching stole for traveling on honeymoon. Her accessories were yellow and white and she had a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Lessard is the grandson of Mrs. W. A. Roper and the late Mr. Roper of Victoria.

Happy Valley—Sum of $80 was realized from a garden party held by Happy Valley PTA at home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rhode, Happy Valley Road. Tea was served from a table centred with a bowl of roses and presiding were Mesdames J. Fraser, D. French, W. Parker, J. Moseley and M. McRae. There was a fish pond and lemonade, cookies, home cooking and corsages of spring flowers were sold. Guides and Brownies sold home made candy and balloons.

Special Ceremonies Held

Annual garden party of East District Local Girl Guide Association, held in St. Mary's Hall, because of inclement weather, last Saturday, realized a sum of $400.

Introduced by Mrs. D. K. Branter, district commissioner, Mrs. H. M. Newson, honorary president of the association, presented the guest of honor, Viscountess Colville of Culross, chief guide commissioner for Scotland, who officially opened the affair.

Girl Guide patrols and Brownie Packs had their own stalls with proceeds from each going to company or pack funds.

During the afternoon a "flying-up" ceremony took place with six Brownies flying up to Guides. They were Brenda

Students Present Program in French
Two classes of students in French, the pupils of Madame T. N. Ritchie, gave an interesting and entertaining program recently at her home, 40 Government Street. An appreciative audience of parents and friends heard the younger students sing, read and present games in the French language, while the advanced class presented conversations, songs and gave a lively skit of French life in a railway station. Madame Ritchie was guest of honor and was presented with flowers. Madame Ritchie also received flowers and a gift from her students. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Those taking part were, Margaret Nelson, Dale Cole, Anne Sulisbury, Sally Rose, Carolyn Martin, Peter Richards, Ronald Robert, Laurie Thorburn, David Bapty, Roger Bapty and Michael Clark.

Costain Dancers

Benefit Revue

Katherine Costain's school of dancing will be presented in a benefit revue at the Oak-Bay Junior High School on Friday, June 19 at 8 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the playgrounds at Oak Bay.

The program will include a Scottish ball with about 30 pupils taking part; a fairy number featuring the very young children. Folk dances, a specialty of the school, will include Ukrainian, Swedish and Italian dances.

Cerebral Hemorrhage Attacks Seldom Give Warning Symptoms

Although I have repeatedly emphasized the importance of heeding warning signals, sometimes this can be overdone. Q—I am 86 years old and three years ago was stricken with heart trouble. My question now is, are there any warning symptoms felt before an attack of cerebral hemorrhage? For the last six months I have had sharp, stabbing pains in my head at intervals.—J.D.

A—It is unlikely that the pains across your head forehead shadow a stroke. Generally, there is no recognizable warning before an attack of cerebral hemorrhage and the best thing is not to worry about it.

Q—About four years ago I was operated on for appendicitis, and since then all my friends tell me I can never become a mother, although I am in fine health. Is it true?—Mrs. K.

A—The removal of an appendix alone would not cause sterility.

Q—My four-year-old boy finds watching television hurts his eyes. Should I consult an eye doctor about this?—Mrs. S. T.

A—Perhaps the boy is just not interested in television. You should observe him carefully and if it really does seem to be his eyes which keep his attention away, he should be examined.

Q—Three years ago I had a gallbladder operation. Not long ago I became allergic and developed blisters and itching of my skin. I am 60 years old and never had this skin trouble until after the operation. Is there any connection?—Mrs. H.

A—It seems unlikely that the gallbladder operation is the cause of the present skin trouble. The interval between the operation and the development of the blisters and itching is probably too long for any relationship.

Probably the best way to go about this problem is to make allergy tests or other examinations to see if the cause of the skin trouble cannot be more definitely identified.

Q—A recent school health examination said that my seven-year-old son had undescended testicles. Is this serious in a boy of this age, and what should be done for it?—Mrs. P.

A—The youngster should be taken to a physician who may want to give the boy some hormone injections which often succeed in remedying this condition. If the testes have not descended in a few years they should be brought down by operation before the beginning of puberty.

Q—Is it true that the use of aluminum chloride or preparations containing this substance to check underarm perspiration leads to cancer of the breast?—C.M.F.

A—No, it is not true. This chemical is considered relatively inactive on the skin and rarely produces trouble of any kind.

Drew Will Speak To Public Meeting Here on June 29

Freight Rate Boost Stands Reports Say

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government will not grant a request from eight provincial governments that it eliminate the last general rail freight rate increase of 7 per cent, informed sources said Wednesday.

However, these informants said, the cabinet will probably go part way toward meeting proposals placed before it by a provincial delegation in a formal appeal May 1.

In any case, they said, the final decision will not be settled before the federal election August 10.

The cabinet's verdict, it was stated, will likely take the form of a refusal of the request that the government exercise its power to nullify the $38,500,000 a-year increase outright, and a direction to the Board of Transport Commissioners — which authorized the increase — that it take a second look at some aspects of the case on which the March 16 boost was based. The board would not be ordered to revise the decision.

The second point was urged by the provinces, concurrently with their proposal that the increase be thrown out. They contended the board had not gone fully enough into factors involved in a rate increase.

Britain Denies Ships Carried War Goods, Troops to Red China

By WALTER DAVIS
LONDON (Reuters)—The British government has denied that British ships carried Chinese troops and strategic materials to Communist China.

"All information indicates these allegations are completely unfounded," foreign under-secretary Anthony Nutting said in the House of Commons Wednesday night in a written answer to a question.

"Britain, he added, is carrying out 'with rigor' the United Nations resolution embargoing the supply of strategic goods to China.

"If any of our ships were to contravene these regulations they would be liable to be hunted down on the high seas by British naval vessels and their managers and masters would become liable to severe penalties."

Nutting was replying to charges made by U.S. Senator Joseph McCarthy's Senate investigating committee. He said the United States government has made no representations to Britain on the matter.

But Britain will continue to trade in non-strategic goods with China, Nutting said. He added, "we cannot live without trade, and we consider that this trade in non-strategic goods is to the advantage of the free world."

Two Panamanian-registered ships said to have carried Chinese troops were not subject to British laws, he said.

"So far as ships flying the British flag and therefore subject to British authority are concerned, all information available to the British government indicates that these allegations are completely unfounded."

Nutting said the Panamanian ships, the Perico and the Miramar, were under the Panamanian flag at the time of the incidents in question in 1951 and 1952. He said they were neither flying nor entitled to fly the British flag and therefore were not subject to British law.

"The fact that a British national or company may own shares or have an interest in a foreign company owning vessels does not give the British government any legal control over the vessel, or entitle that vessel to fly the British flag," he said.

"In such cases the control rests with the country whose flag the vessel is entitled to fly. This principle has long been internationally accepted."

Short Cut to STRAWBERRY Shortcake

that's "out of this world!"

It's Strawberry Time! And that means strawberry shortcake... served often... right NOW... while strawberries are at their luscious best!

And NOW, thanks to Shirriff's White Cake Mix—strawberry shortcake can be a jiffy dessert. You can make it in minutes... serve it time and again.

MINUTES TO MIX
All you need is a package of Shirriff's White Cake Mix... mix with eggs of fresh whole milk. (Shirriff's Kitchen Testing proved conclusively that dairy-fresh milk makes richer cakes that stay longer.) Blend and beat... that's all you do!

MINUTES TO BAKE
Pop into a 375° oven in 8" layer cake pans—then out again, high and light and airy as a cloud... that's all you do!

MINUTES TO SERVE
Turn out your two fluffy-light, snowy-white Shirriff's cake layers while still warm. Put plenty of juicy, ripe red strawberries between layers and plenty more on top. Spread generously with whipped cream... and serve. But that's not all you do. Be ready to take a bow. Be set for a repeat performance. Be sure you have Shirriff's White Cake Mix handy all through the Strawberry Season. It's the Short Cut to Shortcake that's "Out of This World!"

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1953
Aries (March 21 to April 19)
In order to understand what is bothering angry person in your home you will have to take careful note of events there. P.M. quietly work out difficulty with others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

This is a day to watch out for differences with your best friends. There is also danger of accidents caused by too much hurry and bustle. In evening focus attention on bringing in added revenue.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Avoid extravagant spending; handle all possessions with care to prevent accident. Expand your creative work in evening which is also good for entertainment, romance.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)

Consider desires and ambitions of the other person. You and all at your home are working against one another - your fault because of too personal an attitude. P.M. enjoy home pleasures.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

Your intelligent, liberal point of view has earned you much loyal support. Don't let frustrations embitter, and change your problems with close comrades.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Observe rules and regulations very strictly today, otherwise you may find yourself brought up short. Evening is good for seeking information, making new contacts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

You are puzzled by actions of frustrated individual. Look at views objectively to gain clearer understanding. Be careful on streets and highways. P.M. take care of debts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

Worry over money due you from others and your own obligations that must be paid should not make you criticize those who have been loyal to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

Loss of popularity and good will is sure to follow quarrels with associate or foe, so remain calm. P.M. stick to duties and make good impression on authority.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

Rushing through routine tasks will cause a variety of mishaps, so take it easy in your activities. P.M. brings happiness with romance, recreation.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)

Conscientiously take care of commitments already agreed upon before going off in search of recreation. In evening you can make burdens lighter for family by showing more concern.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY

Friday's child will be a sparkling individual, very self-assertive and ready to stir up trouble just for the excitement of it. Accept this, realizing that what seem like faults can be turned into assets, and channel this vital energy in useful directions. Make out-of-door sports and such toys as construction sets available. Your offspring is a hard worker, and in later years all this activity takes constructive forms.

Rose Show Will Open Doors to Public

The rose competition at the summer show of the Victoria Horticultural Society to be held at the Crystal Garden on June 26 and 27, has been thrown open to the general public this year. It was announced today.

Tom Sawyer, vice-president, said the society would like to see everyone who grows roses in Greater Victoria take part in the rose competitions at the show. Awards and prizes will be given to winners of various entries.

"We want to make the rose display the biggest attraction of the summer show," said Mr. Sawyer. "Exhibitors don't have to be members of the society and they will have the same opportunity to win awards."

Mr. Sawyer pointed out that at last year's show, one of the major prizes was won by a man who had grown roses for the first time. "You don't have to be an expert grower to win an award," he said.

The show will have 33 rose entries. These will include displays of all types of single roses, climbing roses, polyantha-type roses and miniature roses.

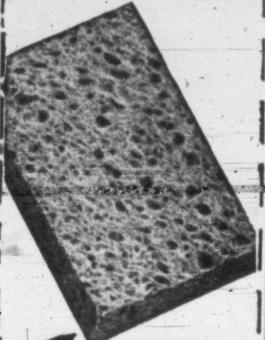

One of the major awards is the Oak Bay Municipality Challenge Trophy, given to the champion rose of the show. It is selected from all exhibits.

Those interested in entering roses in the show should contact J. N. Clark, secretary, 3163 Carrol Street, for information.

MALENKOV MURDERED SAYS U.S. REPORT

GIBSON ISLAND, Md. (BUP)—Col. Ulius Amos, head of an organization called the International Services of Information, said today he had received reports from behind the Iron Curtain that Soviet Premier Malenkov had been murdered.

There was no confirmation from any official source. Amos said there were "strong and numerous" reports that Malenkov was killed after being held prisoner for 30 days. He could not say what individual or group was responsible for the reported execution.

He did not identify his sources of information except that they were from behind the Iron Curtain.

Rosenbergs' Fate Before High Court

U.S. Government Lawyers Urge Justices To Set Aside Stay Granted Atom Spies

WASHINGTON (UP)—Government lawyers today urged the Supreme Court, meeting in an unprecedented emergency session, to set aside the stay of execution granted to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg by Justice William O. Douglas.

The high tribunal convened at 12.12 p.m. EDT, to hear arguments on what it will decide whether to let the Rosenbergs die in Sing Sing's electric chair tonight for betraying atomic secrets to Russia or uphold Douglas' reprieve for the condemned couple.

The government asked the court to overturn the stay of execution, arguing that a further postponement "would not serve the interests of justice."

The Rosenbergs' lawyers stood by to argue in support of Douglas' action Wednesday.

Rhee's PW Release Seen Endangering Korean Truce

Armistice Plans Proceed Despite Korean Action

C-124 Crashes In Japan

Tokyo Scene of U.S. Air Tragedy

TOKYO (AP)—A giant C-124 Globemaster pin-wheeled out of the murky sky near Tokyo today and crashed in flames, carrying 129 Americans to their deaths in the world's worst air disaster.

The United States Air Force said 60 bodies had been identified and the death toll had been established at 129. The huge double-deck transport was carrying 121 U.S. army engineers and airmen back to battle stations in Korea. The plane had a crew of seven.

There were no survivors.

The four-engine Globemaster crashed seconds after taking off from the U.S. air base at Tachikawa, 25 miles west of Tokyo.

An eyewitness said the giant plane "somersaulted like a bird and plummeted to the ground."

A Japanese farmer, Masayasu Kinoshita, said "the huge plane came skimming over the trees by the highway. Two of its four propellers were not turning. Then it circled and crashed and exploded."

The plane was a special flight for soldiers, not one of the regular courier runs between Japan and Korea.

The worst previous air disaster was the crash of another Globemaster near Larson air force base at Moses Lake, Wash., which killed 87 last Dec. 20.

WORLD REACTION

WASHINGTON (UP)—The White House announced it may have an announcement on the Korean prisoner situation after a meeting of the national security council today.

SEOUL (AP)—A reliable South Korean source indicated tonight President Syngman Rhee said "no" to President Eisenhower's urgent June 6 appeal for South Korea to accept an armistice.

Rhee has answered formally Eisenhower's letter. The source said its text would be made public Friday.

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today he was "shocked and grieved" over South Korean President Syngman Rhee's release of 25,000 anti-Communist prisoners of war but that he still held hope for a truce in the war.

Churchill appealed to the House, however, not to press him to "try to say anything" more until he had more information on the release of the prisoners.

BELLEVEILLE, Ont. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today Canada cannot support the "very serious" action of Syngman Rhee, South Korea's president, in freeing 25,000 North Korean prisoners.

BERNE, Switzerland (UP)—Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre said today the release by South Korean President Syngman Rhee of 25,000 anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners has raised doubts that Switzerland can act as a neutral custodian of Korean PWs.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP)—Swedish official quarters said today Sweden's participation in the truce repatriation committee would hinge on the eventual results of South Korea's liberation of anti-Red prisoners.

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today discussed with senators the "seriousness" of South Korea's release of prisoners, and a Senate investigation was demanded to determine "American culpability." Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-N.J.) requested an immediate investigation by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

PUSAN (AP)—A high South Korean military authority said today that most of the 25,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners released earlier would be enlisted in the South Korean Army.

If this report proved true the 16 division South Korean Army would be increased by almost two divisions.

More Anti-Reds Break Prison, Fight Marines

SEOUL (AP)—Four hundred anti-Communist North Korean prisoners broke from an Allied prison camp near Incheon early today after a bloody clash with United States Marine guards.

The prisoners, joining 25,000 others who had broken from four camps in South Korea Wednesday, stamped through barbed wire fences in a hail of bullets from the marines, who had just been rushed up to replace South Korean guards.

Camp authorities said 10 prisoners were killed and 93 wounded in a wild clash in the dark with the combat-tested marines and U.S. Army soldiers. One marine guard was wounded seriously.

TOKYO (AP)—About 25,000 militant, anti-Red North Koreans fled Allied prison camps today as South Korean guards turned their backs in open revolt against the United Nations command.

A few hours later the UN command handed the Reds a letter at Panmunjom reporting the Republic of Korea guards had been replaced by U.S. troops and that every effort is being made to recapture the 25,000 prisoners still loose.

President Syngman Rhee ordered the prisoners freed in an unprecedented move that caught his Allies flat-footed and left them resentful.

Rhee's arbitrary order for the first time turned South Korea's vociferous anti-truce threats into direct action.

No official source would speculate whether that would delay or block an armistice that had seemed only an arm's reach away.

First reaction from observers was that Rhee's move would not keep the Allies from signing an armistice agreement.

However, some sources said the Reds might balk and demand delivery of the prisoners. They were part of 46,380 anti-Red North Koreans and Chinese who refused to go home and thus became a problem that was resolved only last week after months of negotiations.

25,000 PWs Slip Into Darkness

Rhee's order came Wednesday night. By 5 a.m. 25,000 prisoners had slipped away into the darkness and scattered through South Korea.

With most of the 16,000 South Korean guards standing by idly, small numbers of surprised U.S. soldiers tried to stop the flight with rifle fire, but they were too few. Nine prisoners were killed and 16 were wounded.

UN troops recaptured 971 prisoners, even as Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk, South Korean provost marshal, warned that anyone who tried to arrest them "regardless of nationality" would be dealt with severely. He said Rhee had ordered them freed.

As the news became known, the 8th Army canceled all leaves for Allied troops.

The problem of rounding up the prisoners appeared almost impossible—many were South Koreans who had been impressed into the North Korean Army. All could blend into the mass of other South Koreans unmarked by language or physical differences.

The UN command was relying almost entirely on radio broadcasts asking the prisoners to return, even as South Korea's radio Pusan broadcast a message from Rhee urging civilians to house and feed them.

The UN broadcasts told the prisoners they had made a mistake in leaving the prison camps. They promised no reprisals and assured the prisoners they would be set free after an armistice is signed.

Firing Squad Red Reply To East Berlin Riots

BERLIN (CP)—A Russian firing squad today executed a German accused by the Soviet Army command of organizing Wednesday's anti-Communist riots in East Berlin.

Maj.-Gen. P. T. Dibrova, now ruling East Berlin under a state of siege, announced the execution.

The Soviet general described the dead man, Willi Goettling, as "a resident of West Berlin, who worked on order of a foreign intelligence service, was one of the active organizers of provocations and disturbances in the Soviet sector of Berlin, and participated in the violent handiwork against the organs of power and the population."

"Goettling was sentenced to death by shooting. The sentence was carried out," the grim announcement concluded.

The Russians extended martial law to areas bordering East Berlin and began a series of mass arrests in an effort to stamp out the unrest which exploded in the sector Wednesday and resulted in at least 16 fatalities.

More than 100 Germans were reported under arrest today in East Berlin and facing Soviet courts.

Most of the arrested Germans were, by Communist admission, residents of East Berlin and not the Allied sectors. But Red propaganda continued to harp on the charge that "Western provocateurs" instigated the anti-Communist rebellion.

EMPLOYEES SEIZED

Some of the oldest employees of nationalized plants and factories were seized Wednesday night and this morning. They were pointed out by Communist informers as men who had led the march of 50,000 workers against the government headquarters Wednesday.

There were unconfirmed reports that beside the 16 killed in Berlin up to 22 others lost their lives in violence at other places in the Soviet zone.

The Communist police radio announced the martial law edict for Potsdam, where the Soviet army has its headquarters in Germany.

June 7, 1949, 53 died in the Atlantic Ocean off San Juan, Puerto Rico, when a transport plane crashed shortly after taking off for Miami.

Outside San Juan harbor on April 11, 1952, 52 persons died in a crash shortly after taking off for New York.

Near Decota, Calif., in August, 1951, 50 were killed in the crash of a commercial airliner.

The worst jet plane disaster occurred last May 2, when a British passenger plane crashed in a heavy storm near Calcutta, India, killing 43.

East Germany, and Babelsberg, where the Soviet military commander, Col. Gen. A. G. Gretchko, has his residence.

Truckers plying the international highway between Berlin and West Germany reported anti-Red rioting had broken out Wednesday in Magdeburg, Chemnitz, Dresden, Leipzig, Gera and other cities simultaneously with the cyclonic outburst here.

Russian steel sealed off East Berlin completely today. A full armored Red division deployed along the 27-mile frontier and let no one in or out except physicians.

The Berlin revolt filled the press of Western Germany with demands that the Western powers seize the initiative and demand that Russia yield to free elections and full freedom for a united Germany.

TORN A HOLE

The influential Frankfurter Rundschau said the revolt in the Russians' own front yard where all the world could see had "torn a hole in the Communist clay colossus" and the West now should thrust a spear into the gaping wound.

The Red Berlin radio announced the names of 18 youngsters under 20 who it said had been arrested in connection with the demonstrations. The broadcast identified the youths as Western agents—and listed all but two as Soviet zone residents.

The Reds also contended that the general strike which paralyzed the eastern sector of the city Wednesday had ended. "All patriotic workers are back on their jobs."

Apparently Russian riflemen shot down several hundred Germans, but the exact casualty toll was impossible to pin down. The German Red Cross identified 16 bodies in West Berlin hospitals as riot gun-shot victims. There, also, were 119 wounded, some in serious condition.

How many lay dead or wounded in the Soviet zone could not be determined.

All in the Hands of President

Meanwhile, Maj.-Gen. Thomas W. Herren, U.S. commander of POW camps, conferred with Gen. Sun Yup Paik, South Korean army chief of staff, without reaching any solution.

"Paik was non-committal," Herren said, "and he made it clear that it was all in the hands of President Rhee."

Allied soldiers at UN headquarters in Tokyo voiced resentment against Rhee and his followers.

Pte. Bill Nadolskie of Akron, O., said: "We gave him every thing. We do everything for him and now he turns around and kicks us in the teeth."

In Tokyo, a spokesman for Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters issued a statement accusing the South Koreans of collusion with the anti-Red prisoners, saying:

"Between midnight and dawn today, approximately 25,000 militantly anti-Communist prisoners of war broke out of United Nations command prisoner of war camps at Pusan, Pusan, Mansan, and Sang-Mudai, Korea."

"Statements attributed to high officials of the Republic of Korea now make it clear that the action had been secretly planned and carefully co-ordinated at top levels in the Korean government and that outside assistance was furnished the POWs in their mass breakout."

Every Evidence of Collusion

"Republic of Korea Army Security units assigned as guards at the POW camps did little to prevent the breakouts and there is every evidence of actual collusion between the RoK guards and the prisoners."

Before the mass escape, the UN held just under 125,000 prisoners but nearly 47,000 of them refused to go back. The 25,000 who escaped were among the 47,000.

Rhee went into closed session with his cabinet.

U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs in Seoul and other diplomatic officials declined to comment. But they were known to be gravely concerned.

The South Koreans long had wanted the anti-Communist Korean prisoners turned loose as civilians. They have threatened to ignore any truce that left the Communists holding North Korea and Red Chinese troops on Korean soil.

They also have threatened to fire on any troops sent into South Korea to explain about return to their homelands to Chinese and North Koreans who refuse repatriation.

Aside from the mass exodus from the four camps there was no other report of trouble at any of the other 10 POW's camps in South Korea.

Times' Crossword Puzzle Climbs; No. 13 Worth $200

Again it was a little word, "fact," that kept $175 prize money for the Victoria Times Crossword Puzzle No. 12 from most of the entrants. Eliminated on this word alone were 3,696; most of them had "fact."

There was no winner, so Crossword No. 13, which will appear Friday, will be worth $200. Complete answer to No. 12 is on Page 11 today.

Th' handful o' dopes who are workin' fer Communism in Canada no doubt'll be takin' note o' th' firin' squads at work in East Berlin. Or kin them fellers read?

Them 25,000 Korean prisoners broke more than jail.

Seems like Mister Bennett is goin' t' make them Canadians give us British Columbians more money. Which are you?
